Fifty-six Killed In Prison Fight At Rangoon To-day

Seventy-three Wounded Before Military Police Quell Sudden Outbreak After Malcontents Denounce Simon Commission's Report; Battle Lasts Two Hours; Convicts Finally Surrender.

Canadian Press
Rangoon, Burma, India, June 24.—At least fifty-six persons were killed and seventy-three wounded in a mutiny in the central jail here this afternoon after malcontents had denounced the report of the Simon Commission.

Several prisoners were returning from the workshops, to the main hall for a meal when they suddenly rushed the sentries guarding the inner gates. They slaughtered six of the guards and seized their rifles.

The mutineers then fought their way to an outer gate where they were halted by half a dozen determined guards.

PRISON SURROUNDED
The outer guards held several hundred of the desperate convicts at bay until the arrival of military police, who surrounded the prison.

Two hours of hand-to-hand fighting between the convicts and the military police ensued.

The casualties as made known soon after the fighting had subsided included: Killed, two sentries and eleven guards; two military police; one truck driver and forty convicts.

The injured included eleven guards and sixty convicts.

RAIDED ARMORY

After the convicts had secured the weapons of the inner wardens they raided the prison armory, all equipping themselves with arms and ammunition. They then retraced their steps to the workshop.

Taking cover wherever they found it in the workshop and without its walls, the convicts kept up the battle with the forces of the law until their ammunition was exhausted. They then surrendered.

CONSTITUTION OF MALTA IS SUSPENDED

British Government Takes Action Because of Controversy With Vatican

House of Commons Informed of Move by Premier MacDonald

London, June 24.—The British Government has decided to suspend the constitution of Malta temporarily in view of the tense political situation on the island arising from the proclaimed dispute with the Vatican.

Premier MacDonald, announcing the Government's decision in the House of Commons to-day, said:

"In view of the situation in Malta, the Government has decided with considerable reluctance that it has no alternative but to sanction temporary suspension of the constitution."

NEW TARIFF OF AUSTRALIA IS EXPLAINED

Trade Commissioner at Melbourne Cables About Rates Affecting Canada

114 Items Are Increased and Eight Decreased; Other Changes Made

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 24.—The new Australian tariff which came into effect June 20, is explained in a cablegram received by the Department of Trade and Commerce from D. H. Ross, Canadian trade commissioner at Melbourne. There are 114 items increased, eight decreased and twenty-five other variations made in items introduced in November and December, 1929.

CANADA INTERESTED
Increase of chief interest to Canadian manufacturers affect timber, rubber, steel, motor, power machinery, lawn mowers, road-making machinery, machinery not elsewhere included in the complete tariff, refrigerators and parts, saws, tools of trade and shovels.

Reduced duties include items of undressed redwood and British Columbia cedar, and a few of minor importance.

PASS LIST AT OAK BAY HIGH SCHOOL ISSUED

Good Standard Maintained Promotions Announced by Principal Whittemore Show Recommendation System Introduced Into School For First Time This Year

Showing the school to have maintained its usual high standard the pass lists of the first and second year general courses as well as commercial classes were issued by T. S. Whittemore, principal of Oak Bay High School, to-day.

This year the Oak Bay School introduced the recommendation system in passing several of its students in the preliminary and junior grades. Others, who had not shown a percentage during the year high enough to warrant their promotion without tests, were subjected to the usual examination.

Those who were recommended broke school some time ago, while the others were forced to continue until the end of school examinations.

All have left for their summer vacations, while the matriculation classes for the Department of Education examinations, now being conducted. The pass list follows:

Promoted to Grade 11
Passed on recommendation: Katherine Youdell, J. Fox, W. Rice-Jones, J. McPhail, K. Stevens, Estelle Matheson, K. Winsay, Emily Durkin, C. Nesbitt, R. Twining, H. McLachlan, J. Carson, E. Gardner, Nancy McPherson, C. Maybaw, Pauline Harnett, J. Moloney, F. Stevens, Winifred Stewart, R. Garrett, Jill Biller, G. Craig, R. Ferguson Hildebrand, J. Monteith, W. Russell, K. Ellis, N. Williams, Christine McLeod, Estelle Holden, Mary Fortney, E. Carmichael, M. Loughheed, J. Harness, Dorothy Abbott, Doreen McGregor, J. Inrig, H. Barnea, J. Banks, Pamela (Concluded on Page 15)

PATTULLO IS NOW ON TOUR OF SKEENA RIDING

Vancouver, June 24.—T. D. Pattullo, M.P.P., provincial Liberal leader, and G. S. Pearson, M.P.P., for Nanaimo, left yesterday evening for a ten-day tour of the Skeena Federal constituency, where they will campaign for Olaf Hansen against J. C. Brady.

Speaking at Ocean Falls this evening and Prince Rupert Wednesday, they will tour every part of the riding, after which Mr. Pattullo will go to Revelstoke to join Premier King July 4.

Dunning Budget To Aid Empire Trade O'Halloran Asserts

Diversion To British of Trade Worth $250,000,000 Is Major Objective of New Canadian Tariff; C. H. O'Halloran Gives Sydney Audience Review of Liberal Policies; Dickie-Pooley Patronage Pledges Denounced As "Political Corruption."

By Times Staff Representative
Sydney, June 24.—British industries will benefit to the extent of $250,000,000 annually under the terms of the Dunning budget, which will entirely redraw the lines of Canada's foreign trade and greatly strengthen the bonds of empire, C. H. O'Halloran, Liberal candidate in the Nanaimo riding, yesterday evening announced in a splendid address at the Auditorium here. Unemployment problems and a review of the notable concessions accorded returned soldiers were rival matters for secondary interest in the address. Mr. O'Halloran aroused his audience with a sharply worded denunciation of Mr. Dickie's party patronage policy, as enunciated at Esquimalt last summer.

Opening the meeting, Alex. McDonald, chairman, reminded the audience of the active interest taken by Mr. O'Halloran in the improvement of the interests of the Nanaimo riding.

"He knows this district and its needs better than anyone else, certainly better than Mr. Dickie. It is very seldom Mr. Dickie comes into this part of the riding except at election times," he charged.

The chairman said Mr. O'Halloran was a pioneer stock raiser in British Columbia and had made a name for himself in his profession. "What better representative could we have at Ottawa than a young man of Mr. O'Halloran's calibre, ability and integrity?" he asked.

BUDGET STANDS ALONE
Mr. O'Halloran said two major issues were before the voters—unemployment and the Russian or Bolshevik menace.

These were distinct from the Dunning budget.

In Detroit over 250,000 men were unemployed, more than in all Canada. While the problem was world wide that fact did not mean that no efforts should be made to ameliorate conditions.

The hikers came to the Brilliant region from Porto Rico, B.C.

Thief Robs Jeweler; Flees From Police

Breaks Into Mitchell and Duncan Store, Grab Loots and Races For Waterfront

Officers Follow But Loose Man in Wharf District; Extent of Theft Not Known

Smashing one of the View Street windows of the jewelry store of Mitchell & Duncan, after making careful preparations to do so, a thief broke in shortly after 3.30 o'clock this morning, an unidentified thief escaped with some jewelry and a number of watches. He was hotly pursued by members of the local police force, but evaded them in the vicinity of the wharf behind the Old Customs House. Late to-day the owners of the store where checking up on the articles stolen.

ELUDES POLICE
According to the police report, Constables T. Stevenson and T. Banister, while on duty early this morning, heard the crash of glass and rushed to the scene of the robbery. They saw a man fleeing in the direction of the waterfront and gave chase. When they reached the wharf behind the Old Customs House the man had disappeared. Constable F. Woodburn and Driver B. Acreman rushed to the scene of the robbery in the patrol, and after notifying the owner, J. W. Durkan, combed the waterfront for the thief. They were unable to locate the man in the daylight district.

An axe, a pair of gloves and a gunnysack smeared with lard were found at the scene of the robbery.

It is thought the burglar stuck the gunnysack against the window before striking it a blow with the axe, in the hope that the lard would hold the glass and prevent a craft as the window was shattered.

The axe, a short handled implement, similar to those used by Chinamen in the different wood-yards around the city, along with the gloves and sack were taken to the police station.

FREEDOM SONS NOW ON MARCH TOWARD TRAIL

Nelson, B.C., June 24.—The party of the Sons of Freedom sect of Doukhobors which was forced by orthodox community Doukhobors of Brilliant, reinforced by police, to abandon a nude parade (J. Sunday, was trekking today along the highway toward Trail, some fifteen miles away.

While the demonstrators did not want to leave Pass Creek, where they were conveyed forcibly by the community Doukhobors, Sunday night, a threat that their camp would be destroyed if they did not vacate persuaded them to resume the road. They are expected to reach Trail within a couple of days.

The hikers came to the Brilliant region from Porto Rico, B.C.

POPE TO-DAY IS REPORTED SERIOUSLY ILL

Pontiff's Ailment Started Some Time Ago, It Is Stated in Rome

Was Aggravated By His Participation in Lengthy Ceremonies Last Sunday

Vatican City, June 24.—The Pope was reported to-day suffering severely from an acute bladder trouble, with reported symptoms of toxic poisoning.

The Pope was known to be having some illness of this nature for a considerable time.

To-day's reports had it that his condition was aggravated by participation in long ceremonies of canonization last Sunday. It was understood that doctors had effected a drainage before Sunday's rites, which relieved the patient considerably and enabled him to make a victorious appearance.

The Pope is seventy-three years of age.

CRITICISM OF BY-LAW HALTS BILL

Council Public Works Committee to Thrash Out Plumbing Issue With Objectors

The fate of Victoria's proposed new plumbing and sewer by-law still hung in the balance yesterday evening, despite the fact that it was scheduled to go through its final reading and be submitted to a vote of the City Council. No further steps will be taken in the matter until the public works committee of the council has considered the draft with those bodies of the city which have found fault with the proposed act, and have offered suggested amendments. At a date to be set in the near future, the committee will confer with representatives, and will go over the by-law clause by clause until the matter is finally thrashed out.

Yesterday evening the council split on the suggestion that the by-law, as it stood be subjected to the final vote. Alderman Robert Smith maintained that he had done everything in his power to explain the proposed bill to the bodies which found fault with it, but had been denied a hearing by several of the most influential groups criticizing the measure. He considered the draft an excellent piece of work drawn up by men who knew thoroughly the subject with which they were dealing.

In his remarks he stressed the fact that it was not, as many people suggested, a move on the part of master plumbers to the city to snare legislation which would be of personal benefit to them. He characterized it as a copy of the by-law now in existence in Vancouver, noting that local changes had been made to meet situations in this city.

STRONG OBJECTION
Strong objection to the bill as it stood was registered by Alderman Alex. Feden. Not only did he think that the draft should be considered by all parties influenced in Victoria, but he added the comment that the Vancouver by-law, after which the Victoria issue was patterned, was a failure in his opinion.

CANDIDATES IN VANCOUVER ARE BILLED TO SPEAK

Vancouver, June 24.—Two important Liberal election meetings in the Greater Vancouver this week.

A. E. Munn will open his campaign in North Vancouver this evening, with G. G. McCree, K.C., supporting him, and Alderman E. H. Briggman as chairman. The proceedings will be broadcast.

Hon. Jap. MacKenzie, new Minister of Immigration and Colonization, is to open his campaign in Vancouver tonight, with a public meeting in the Hotel Vancouver, which will be broadcast.

Within a day or two afterward Captain MacKenzie will leave for the interior to meet Premier King at Golden. He will accompany the Premier on his tour of this Province.

Federal Premier Goes to That City After Addressing Big Sydney Meeting

Reviews Gains of Maritimes Under Liberal Dominion Administration

By RAY BROWN
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Sydney, N.S., June 24.—After opening his election campaign in the province of Nova Scotia with a great meeting at Sydney, Cape Breton, yesterday evening, Premier King to-day was speeding in the direction of Halifax, to speak again to-night.

The Prime Minister's addresses in Nova Scotia will total three. The final meeting will take place tomorrow night at Kentville, after which he will proceed to St. John, MARITIME GAINS.

"I stand here to-night and say to the Maritime Provinces there is not a major recommendation in the Dunning report—not a recommendation of any real significance—that we have not carried out in letter and in spirit," said Premier King in his Sydney speech yesterday evening.

GAINS CLAIMED BY BOTH SIDES IN CHINA WAR

Leaders' Reports Differ as to Position on Northern Honan Front

Shanghai, June 24.—China's civil war flared to-day to white heat, both the government and Northern Alliance rebels claiming important victories along the crucial northern Honan province battlefield.

Shanghai, June 24.—Nationalist military dispatches to-day claimed success in fighting on all three war fronts.

A Suchow dispatch said the Nationalists in the last twenty-four hours had defeated the allied Northern forces in northeast Honan Province and had forced the rebels to withdraw toward the Chihli provincial boundary and westward toward Kaifeng, the Honan capital.

Advices from Changsha, capital of Hunan, asserted the Nationalists south of the Yangtze River throughout the province of Hunan and Kiangsu were hemming in the rebels and forcing them to retreat southward toward Kwangsi, from which province they had started on the march which took them all the way to the Yangtze River.

Previous government dispatches told of Nationalist gains in Shantung Province along the Yellow River.

The Nationalist censorship has cut off news reports from foreign sources in the fighting zone.

Founder Addresses Rotary Convention

Chicago, June 24.—Chicago's latching was out to-day as Paul F. Harris, founder of what now is International Rotary, delivered his welcoming speech before 15,000 visiting Rotarians in the Chicago Stadium as formal conference of the silver jubilee anniversary was started. The audience accorded Harris an ovation when he appeared to tell how Rotary was founded by himself and three "pals" in Chicago on February 23, 1905.

Harris has seen the group grow from four to the present organization, embracing hundreds of thousands of members scattered in the 3,000 clubs of the United States, Canada and sixty-one other nations.

GOOD WILL.
Friendship and good will as the basis of international understanding to minimize the dangers of warfare were the major ideas developed in Harris's speech.

"The principles of Rotary," Harris said, "have been adopted in almost every country in the world as an indication of that vast power it can exercise in the field of international relations. We should continue the work in all countries until friendship and fair play shall be found in all worthy vocations."

Federal System For India Recommended

Simon Commission, in Final Report, Suggests Gradual Building Up of Provincial Governments That Will Meet Needs of Varied Races

London, June 24.—India, with its teeming millions, its history stretching back to antiquity, ever a story of division and differences, its many races, many tongues and many religions, is visualized in the second volume of the Simon Commission's report as ultimately one strong united nation occupying an important place among the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Although the process may take many years, the report foresees India eventually welded into one great confederacy under a federal government to which not only British India, but the exceptions of Burma, but also the individual Indian states, now under native rulers would adhere.

THE MEANING OF THE REPORT RECOMMENDS the building of a federation founded on the principle of self-government. The remaining governor's province, Burma, would be entirely separated from India.

The provincial governments would be the schools in which the training of the Indians in self-government would be continued. A constitutional framework would be set up for the provinces by a revised India Act, which would be broad enough to permit of adjusting the varied requirements of the different provinces and permit of growth to complete responsible government.

THE GOVERNOR OF THE PROVINCE would form his ministry, but while it would not be necessary in every province that every minister should be a member of the Legislature, members of the Legislature would be eligible for any of the portfolios in the cabinet, and there would be joint cabinet responsibility. At present in the provinces there is a division of responsibility, and restricted authority.

The governor would have power to act independently of his ministry only in case the responsible government failed to function or did something injurious to the peace and good government of the state or unfair to the minorities.

THE PROVINCES would have wide autonomy, including control of the offices of law and order—a point of much dispute during the inquiry.

TO INCREASE COUNCILS The provincial legislative councils would be increased to 200 and 250 members in the larger provinces.

Communal electoral districts to ensure fair representation for the Mohammedans and Sikhs would be continued.

The Hindu caste system is shown in provision for "direct" representation from the "depressed classes."

Women's representation in the provincial councils would be aided by governor's nominations from general constituencies.

FRANCHISE QUESTION The franchise would be extended. In the provinces now enjoying the franchise, 25 per cent of the population is registered as voters. This would be increased to 50 per cent, which is as far as the commissioners think it feasible to go until education is more widespread.

The Northwest Frontier Province and other special areas which play a vital part in the protection and peace of India, would not at the present time have the same degree of self-government as the governor's provinces.

The members elected to the provincial council would in turn elect the central council.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION Canadian Press Staff Correspondent London, June 24.—"It has struck us as remarkable that it should be so commonly assumed in India that the development of responsible government must take place purely on British lines. This sentiment, from the 300 pages of the second volume of the Simon Commission's report provides, perhaps, the keynote of the whole volume.

"Our own view," continues the commissioners, "is that until the provinces of India have established themselves by the working of unitary government, as self-government units, the ultimate form which the central government will take cannot be finally determined.

"The question of whether the Indian states will contribute to the process has been discussed, the utmost, therefore, that can be done now is to reduce the rigidity of the structure of the central executive, to make the best possible provision for the introduction of Indians into the executive, and to recognize the British system as not the only model to follow. There are many other systems in the world which differ from the British model, and which are suitably developed according to the needs of their own areas and their own populations."

A proposal is disclosed at the outset that the Simon report is unanimous.

provinces' quota of members to the federal body. They might or might not be members of provincial councils.

ALL GROUPS REPRESENTED Proportional representation would be used so that each group in the Provincial Council would be represented in the Federal House. This is a striking innovation from the British Empire system elsewhere, where members of parliaments are elected directly by the people.

Native states would be encouraged also to come into the federation by sending representatives, but would not be forced to do so.

The Governor-General of India would still remain the active head of the Federal Government. He would select his own ministers, instead of at present, these being selected under the authority of the Secretary of State for India.

INFLUENCE GROWS The stage of responsible government has not yet been reached where the Governor-General's executive would be responsible to the Indian Legislature as the British Cabinet is responsible to the British Parliament.

It is held, however, the influence of the Indian Legislature on the executive is already considerable and will undoubtedly grow, it is stated.

The British army must remain in India, it is stated. The well-being of India and the well-being of the Empire require its presence there for many years to come, much as it is constituted to-day.

The present boundaries of the provinces are not considered suitable and a commission to study them is proposed.

A wide range of increased taxes to improve the public services and to provide more funds available for the provincial governments is urged.

DUNNING BUDGET TO AID EMPIRE TRADE, O'HALLORAN ASSERTS

dillon in Canada. The Russian Government by control of vast resources, presented serious problems. He cited the invasion of the Atlantic coast states by Russian lumber, which was sold on a policy of undercutting prices.

"The Dunning budget is a serious attempt to divert to Britain a substantial proportion of the trade which has hitherto been carried on across the international boundary. This will give Great Britain more employment and will give Canadians cheaper products of Empire origin. The unemployed of Britain are not idle because they do not want to work. Here in Canada we offer, under the Dunning budget, a trade of $250,000,000, which is the largest of the largest brokerage firms in Canada, is going to take. There is therefore every reason to believe that a considerable proportion of trade hitherto going to the United States will go to Britain. To be able to get this trade to Britain, we have to buy cheaper, to give more service than our competitor.

"That is why this trade can, under the Dunning budget, be expected to go to Britain. Every Canadian business man naturally going to buy where the goods are cheaper."

Mr. O'Halloran touched on customary Conservative flag-waving electioneering methods, pointing out that such tactics were not necessary in the current election, because of the Dunning budget.

He recalled that in the days of Sir John Macdonald there was a strong party, including leading Conservatives, favoring annexation of Canada to the United States.

SUBJECT ACHIEVED "You cannot bring national prosperity on political shibboleths, you must have a patriotic program such as is to be found in the Dunning budget. I cannot believe that patriotic Canadians can be anything but grateful for the Dunning budget, which is to help their kin in the Old Country."

"The only way to uphold that objective is to vote for the Dunning budget. In this constituency I am the candidate upholding that budget, not Mr. Dickie," he said, quoting The Vancouver Daily Province as approving the new tariff.

"My opponent cannot logically come here, in the face of that leading Conservative paper, and tell us not to support the Dunning budget," he said, also citing London Conservative newspapers as expressing the gratitude of the British people for concessions accorded. These papers included The Times, The Morning Post, The Daily Express and The Observer.

Mr. O'Halloran said the countervailing duty in the budget had caused Canadian poultrymen to obtain better prices for eggs than prevail in the United States. The price of tea had been cut as soon as the budget was passed and directly benefited every household in Canada.

"Oregon and Washington had shipped to British markets eight times as much sawn lumber as had been exported to the United Kingdom by British Columbia. On an average, the Oregon-Washington export of lumber was worth $750,000,000. There is a potential market in Britain for our lumber. Why not let it go? I have asked I cannot enter into this subject, but coming October there will be a conference in London, when the development of trade channels within the Empire will be discussed. That will give opportunity for millions of British Columbia to sleep in and get that trade," he suggested.

POLITICAL CORRUPTION "I am going to roundly assail my opponent for making certain statements. At an Equinax Conservative picnic he assured his hearers that I would be given first consideration when the Conservative Party attained power; that good public servants would be charged to make way for good Conservative workers. Such a declaration of policy is a disgrace to any political party. I am amazed that my opponent, after ten years of silence, gives this declaration of political corruption. I am amazed that he again submits himself for re-election.

"Associated with Mr. Dickie at that picnic meeting was, who do you think? Hon. R. H. Pooley. It would have been bad enough had he been there as member for Equinax, but he was Attorney-General, the first law officer of the Crown, and The Daily Province charged him with 'having taken everything out of the spirit of the law everywhere.' I tell you, as I have told other meetings, I have not yet been told of one single instance of service to Nanaimo riding by Mr. Dickie."

Mr. O'Halloran declared that, by inference, Mr. Dickie had declared he would abolish the British preference, and would terminate many concessions accorded returned men, such as preference in employment.

He recalled that the Liberal provincial government had accorded returned men an advantage in the public service, other factors being equal, but only used action by the returned men's organizations had barred active Conservative steps to abrogate that advantage.

DICKIE DID NOTHING Mr. O'Halloran asked for any item of public service which Mr. Dickie had achieved during his term as representative of the riding. No reply being forthcoming, he said: "I did not ask to be smart. I have asked that question everywhere. I tell you, as I have told other meetings, I have not yet been told of one single instance of service to Nanaimo riding by Mr. Dickie."

Touching on unemployment relief, Mr. O'Halloran declared local unemployment should be a municipal matter. In such cases as were caused by an influx of immigrants into the district the problem should be shouldered by the Dominion. In other cases the province should assume the burden.

He recognized that the coming conference of Dominion, provincial and municipal leaders would clarify this matter. If no practical solution was forthcoming, if elected to the House of Commons he would pledge continuous action to attain a of these is that it would enable the Indian states to select representation in such a manner as they would desire.

It is proposed that the Federal Assembly be composed of between 250 and 300 members.

The Council of State, as an integral part of the Central Government, the commission-ary, should be retained. It would continue with its existing functions as a body of selected and nominated members, chosen in the same proportion as at present. The functions of the two chambers of the Central Legislature are set out in some detail.

BROKERS PAY BIG FINES AND APPEAL TERMS

Solloway and Mills Will Take Jail Sentences Before Alberta Appeal Court

Judge's Ruling Is Four Months For Solloway and One Month For Mills

Canadian Press Calgary, June 24.—Isaac W. C. Solloway and Harvey M. Mills, heads of one of the largest brokerage firms in Canada, were found guilty on four charges of conspiracy to defraud the public in the Alberta Supreme Court late yesterday afternoon, and Mr. Justice Ives sentenced Solloway to four months imprisonment and a fine of $225,000. He levied a fine of $25,000 on Mills, the other partner of the concern, and one month's imprisonment.

Solloway and Mills last night paid fines totaling $250,000 and were released on bail, pending hearing of an appeal, which they take, against their respective sentences.

The brokers were released from the custody of the sheriff following the posting of bail of $100,000 each.

THE SENTENCES The judge pointed out the company had written off $416,000 to bad debts, and that there was no sign of claims. But this was natural, he said, because part of the amount was under interest. Profits on clients' collateral and secret commissions. The company was ready to cry "quits" with the clients.

The first big piece of money was made in Amulet stock, he said. The limited company, he continued, was, in fact, an employee of Solloway, with members of its staff carrying out his directions.

"The only reasonable conclusion is one of guilty of conspiring as charged on each of the four counts, and so I find each of them," the judge said. Mr. McCallum, defence counsel.

THE CHARGES The four counts on the indictment of conspiracy were as follows: 1.—That the accused did conspire to defraud the public. 2.—That the accused did conspire in contravention of the Criminal Code. 3.—That the accused did conspire to affect the public market price of stocks. 4.—That the accused did conspire to commit a contravention of section 231 of the Criminal Code.

Penalties on Solloway were pronounced as follows: Count No. 1.—Four months' hard labor in the Lethbridge jail. A fine of $100,000, or in default of payment an additional twenty-three months in jail. Count No. 2.—Four months' hard labor in the Lethbridge jail and a fine of $125,000, or in default of payment an additional twenty-three months in jail. Count No. 3.—Two months' hard labor.

Count No. 4.—One month's hard labor. Penalties were imposed on Mills as follows: Count No. 1.—One month in the Lethbridge jail with hard labor and remedy, and would join with other members in arousing the country. "Others can say they will do more, but none can actually perform more than I pledge to do," he said.

The generous concessions accorded returned men by recent legislation was a return for one-third, and the benefit to be expected through the extension of the benefit of the doubt to claimants for pensions was touched upon.

INDUSTRY STAGNATES "Throughout Nanaimo riding we have great potential natural resources. Fisheries, pulpwood, timber, minerals, coal mines and others. What strikes me sorely after going around, is the fact that all these industries are stagnant. If we are going to employ our young people we must develop these industries and resources of Vancouver Island. We must stick to it when times look the worst and keep our heads down when things look the best. Unless we do so, unless we put in public office men who will study these matters, insist on forcing these resources upon the attention of Federal and provincial governments and direct attention of financiers to these great sources of untold wealth, these great opportunities will remain idle.

"Whether I am elected or not, I will promise that I will continue to do what I have tried to do for the last five years; I will labor to direct attention to these resources, to bring prosperity to Vancouver Island," he promised. In conclusion, Mr. O'Halloran pointed out that at the last election, about 10,000 persons in Nanaimo riding had not voted, and he appealed to all to aid in settling the issue between him and Mr. Dickie.

DICKIE'S EASY WAY OUT Norman W. Whitaker said Mr. O'Halloran was to be credited with many matters of advantage to important parts of Nanaimo riding. He instanced Mr. O'Halloran's success in obtaining imposition of dumping duties some years ago, on the surplus strawberry crop of Missouri, after Mr. Dickie had professed inability to obtain such duties.

Mr. Whitaker considered the tariff could not be a political issue in this election in view of the Conservative complaint of "rotten thunder." The Liberal policy provided for British preferences and a tariff system based on the principle of notifying nations which place undue handicaps on Canadian trade that they cannot look for favors from Canada. He explained the operation of the countervailing duties and declared "To my mind the British preference is the greatest gesture of goodwill towards Britain. It should end forever Conservative suggestions that Liberals are disloyal."

Mr. Whitaker quoted Hon. R. B. Bennett's statement in the House of Commons to the effect that tariff concessions to Britain should only be based on an exchange of privileges.

"It is purely a matter of cold-blooded business with Mr. Bennett. He overlooks the fact that we owe to British men and ships the safety in wartime of our overseas trade."

The preference meant that Canadians can buy British goods cheaper than those of other lands and thereby the weakness of the O.M. Country will enjoy a greater share of prosperity.

He closed with a forecast that Sean-ich would give Mr. O'Halloran a majority in the election, and expressed the hope that the Islands would also elect a Liberal majority.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

a fine of $10,000, or twenty-three months additional.

Count No. 2.—One month's hard labor and a fine of $15,000, or an additional twenty-three months in jail. Count No. 3.—One month's hard labor.

Count No. 4.—One month's hard labor. All terms, exclusive of those imposed in lieu of fine, would run concurrently and all time imposed in default of payment of fine would run concurrently.

JUDGE'S REMARKS In delivering his decisions Mr. Justice Ives said a stockbroker was one who bought and sold in stocks and acted as agent for others.

"This company, he said, had fully ignored and disregarded a rule of law. In the great bulk of transactions, he said, the company had dealt for itself. He briefly went over the history of the company.

The house policy, the judge continued, was to sell short on its own behalf. They charged brokerage and interest, he said. They credited confirmations to brokers as sold, and to clients as bought. They sold their own shares to clients by cross sales, he said. They obtained secret commissions and unearned money by obtaining clients' money.

Employees admitted, he said, that the Toronto and Vancouver branches had pursued the same plan, and the only inference was that the brokers never expected or intended to be called upon to deliver shares. "I am satisfied a great number of transactions with Mr. Jashinsky were fictitious and fraudulent," he said. The documents, the judge declared, showed an entire absence of interest in the welfare of clients.

WRITTEN OFF The judge pointed out the company had written off $416,000 to bad debts, and that there was no sign of claims. But this was natural, he said, because part of the amount was under interest. Profits on clients' collateral and secret commissions. The company was ready to cry "quits" with the clients.

bowed to the judge's ruling, but submitted the evidence did not substantiate a conspiracy on the part of the accused.

CUSTOM OF BROKERS "I am not forgetting the evidence proved to be what was a custom," the judge replied.

He explained that what other brokers had been doing and what had been followed by the accused was in his opinion an extenuating circumstance.

"No custom will permit them to break rules of law," declared the judge. "This, he declared, had been a common law for hundreds of years. Other brokers, he said, must deal for clients in the capacity of agents and there was no reason why brokers should not remain in this capacity. They might trade in stocks and bonds, he said, but could not at the same time act as clients and must be assisted with their remuneration. They could not do both at the same time.

Hard On the Dog The young husband could eat no more of his wife's dinner. "That's a pity," she said, "for if you don't I shall have to give it to the dog!"

"Yes, it is a pity—it's such a nice dog."

Short Lived New "What heavy unwieldy things the old-fashioned wedding rings were," said the young girl catching sight of her grandmother's ring.

"Yes, dear," was the reply. "In my day they were made to last a lifetime."

Man in Railway Car Without Food For Five Days

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 24.—With-out food or water since last Wednesday, Samuel Bacehill, a native of Dauphin, Manitoba, was rescued from an empty box car on the Michigan Central Rail-way here by Police Lieutenant Roy-nhan yesterday. Roy-nhan, on a tour of the Montrose yards, heard a faint tap-ping and when he opened the car door, Bacehill staggered from his imprison-ment.

Times were hard in Manitoba. Bace-hill said, and he had come west seek-ing to do better. Wednesday he lay down in an empty car at Burlington, near Hamilton, for a sleep and when he awakened found it had been locked. He was given a substantial meal by the hospitable railwaymen and helped on his way to get a job on a farm in the district.

TO DISCUSS EMPLOYMENT

Edmonton, June 24.—Unemployment as it affects the various municipalities of Alberta will be discussed at a conference of provincial and municipal representatives to-morrow afternoon. Premier J. E. Brownlee announced yesterday he was arranging such a meeting in conjunction with the annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, and that Calgary and Edmonton particularly were eager to have the unemployment problem threshed out.

150 INJURED IN RIOTS IN SEVILLE, SPAIN

Police Use Sabres and Butts of Rifles to Beat Strikers

Seville, Spain, June 24.—A general strike attended by violent rioting gripped this carfree city of sunny Andalusia yesterday.

About 150 persons were injured in two clashes between workers and police, the latter hammering the rioters with the flats of their sabres and the butts of rifles and firing many shots.

Fourteen labor leaders, heads of different unions, were arrested when the rioting began to get out of hand yesterday evening. A dozen police had to be treated for injuries.

The situation was under control last night, but the city was tense and waiting developments. A few people were in the streets, which were patrolled by heavy detachments of police and civil guards. Strong reinforcements were mobilized.

The strike, which affected more than a dozen unions, was precipitated by reports about the death of a woman worker in the olive trade. It broke suddenly and paralyzed the city.

The union of olive workers had cer-tified the death of the woman, Antonia Vargas Bravo, had been caused by blows inflicted by police who were al-lleged to have brutally maltreated her.

City Will Assist In Entertainment Of Doctors Here

The sum of $200 will be used by the City Council for the entertainment of the convention delegates attending the gathering of the Victoria Medical As-sociation here next September. It was decided at the council meeting yester-day evening.

The appropriation, moved by Alder-man James Adam and seconded by Alderman Straith, will be left in the hands of the entertainment com-mittee for distribution.

Since 1900 the Gregorian calendar has been adopted in China, Turkey, Soviet Russia, Roumania and Greece.

Vancouver Island News Alberni

Alberni, June 24.—Clarke's Hall was transformed into a bower of summer blossoms and noisy lighting effects Friday evening for the successful dance sponsored by the members of the Alberni Girls' Club in aid of funds for the erection of a new Community Hall. The Canadian orchestra from Victoria, supplied exhilarating music and the excellency of the midnight supper was assured by a committee of young ladies consisting of Misses Effie Redford, Sadie Miles, Belle Pat-terson, Anne, Nell and Norah Burke, Aggie and Hattie Forrest and Ann Prescott; Madames E. Allen, Art North and Gordon Motion. The guests pre-sent included, Mr. and Mrs. H. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Max McGowan, Mr. and Mrs. H. A large gathering of quoting fans gathered at the Newcastle Hotel Satur-day to witness between Jack Craig and Frank Burke of Nanaimo a quoting match. Craig ran away with the match at the start and was leading by 37 to 8, but Burke got into form and scored twenty-one points in succession. When he slipped, Craig got into the lead and won the match.

U.S. PRESIDENT LACKS TIME TO PAY VISIT TO B.C.

Canadian Press Washington, June 24.—Unless the plans of President Hoover for his tour west this summer should be materially altered it will be impossible for him to leave the country and visit Canada.

It was explained at the White House that the President greatly appreciated the invitation from the Mayor of Van-couver to visit the Canadian coast city as well as others received from the Dominion, but that his itinerary, al-ready crowded, could not be extended across the border this year.

It is understood the White House is fully cognizant of the important re-sults which might arise were the President able to accept the invitation from Vancouver, and it is with regret Mr. Hoover finds himself unable to visit the city.

3,000 Sunday School Workers At Big Convention

Canadian Press Toronto, June 24.—Three thousand Sunday school workers from every state in the United States and every prov-ince in Canada crowded into the air-plane building of the Canadian Na-tional Exhibition here last night for the opening session of the Interna-tional Religious Education Convention. Messages from the Governor-General of Canada, Premier King and the President of the United States were read and applauded, and it was an-nounced that on Saturday night, when the Youth Conference of North Amer-ica would join in session with the convention, there would be over 5,000 delegates in attendance.

Australia is estimated to contain about 3,740,000 horsepower in its water courses, of which less than one-fifth is utilized.

AFTER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

WELL MAY IT BE SAID THAT THE great convention of International Rotary which is being held in Chicago this week is an imposing reminder of the force of the old adage that "big oaks from little acorns grow."

Twenty-five years ago four businessmen met in a Chicago office and conceived the rotary idea. There and then they laid the foundation from which has risen the great structure of International Rotary. They did more than give birth to this organization; they gave birth to the whole service club movement, now recognized as one of the most potent influences for amity among nations.

What of Rotary to-day? From that one club composed of four friends there has developed an organization which girdles the world. Scattered over no fewer than sixty-two countries there are 3,337 clubs with a total membership of more than 153,000. And it is a happy circumstance that the founder of the movement, Paul P. Harris, and seventeen of the members who belonged to the first Rotary Club in Chicago are present at this week's convention mingling with men from many lands, all swearing allegiance to Rotary's gospel: "Service Above Self—He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

The question often has been asked whether International Rotary as the world understands the movement to-day could have prevented the Great War. The question will have to remain unanswered. The organization was in its infancy in 1914 and the Old World knew very little about its meaning and understood less about what its gradual growth portended. But he would be an irreconcilable sceptic who would predict that if ever the world should again be faced with a crisis like that which proved too much for its statesmen to circumvent in 1914, the organization which is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of its birth in Chicago this week would be merely an impotent factor.

In the twenty-five years of Rotary's existence, of course, science has assisted materially in making the work of the organization more effective. New methods of transportation and such means of communication as the radio have annihilated time and space. International boundaries are not the formidable obstacles to international understanding they once were. Even though many tongues are being heard in Chicago this week, the sense of strangeness will not be felt anything like as much on this occasion as it must have been, for instance, even in the early post-war years, so quickly is the world moving.

On this continent we naturally see at close range the beneficial influence of the service club movement. It matters not whether it be Rotary, Kiwanis, Gyro, or any of the other international bodies, the ideal of each one of them is the embodiment of that saner outlook upon life and life's associations which must promote a better understanding between individuals and between nations.

GETTING THE WIRES CROSSED

PERHAPS BEFORE THE ELECTION campaign is over, Mr. Bennett will give Canada some definite idea of the Conservative tariff policy, besides the present vague denunciation of the Dunning Budget, and after the opposition leader has spoken the rest of the party may be expected to rally around and say "this is what we intended from the beginning." But so far there is a strange disunion in the higher command of Conservatism. Mr. Bennett orders an advance in one direction and his lieutenants go marching off in another. Mr. Bennett says something about the tariff in the west and one of his aides says just the opposite in the east. The sorely-tried intelligence service of the party seems unable to maintain contact.

A few days ago, for example, Mr. Bennett declared with keen alarm that the government's increased duties on fruit and vegetables would cost the poor consumers of Toronto $2,000,000 a year—this despite the fact that Mr. Bennett has been demanding an increase in these duties ever since he assumed the leadership of his party. But no sooner had he revealed this distressing prospect ahead of the consumers of Toronto than Mr. Cahan, of Montreal, one of his chief associates in the opposition, announced that the vegetable producers of Canada, on the contrary, would be ruined because the new duties were not high enough on West Indian imports, which the government is encouraging in preference to United States produce, but not at the expense of Canadian produce.

The wires became crossed again when Mr. Bennett attacked the government's increases in steel duties. This, said Mr. Bennett, was a bare-faced theft of the Conservative policy. Again the supporting troops not only failed to go to the aid of their leader, but retreated hurriedly in the opposite direction. Hon. J. D. Chaplin, one of Mr. Bennett's most influential lieutenants in Ontario, declared that the new tariff, by placing many iron and steel products on the free list under the British Preference, would ruin the Canadian iron and steel industry. And this, by the way, was the party which was saying at the same time that the increased British Preference was only an empty election gesture, and would not assist the sale of British goods in Canada to any worthwhile extent.

BOSTON RECALLS THE BAD OLD DAYS

THE OLD CITY OF BOSTON WHICH apart from our own Quebec, is perhaps the greatest treasury of history in America, will celebrate this summer the three hundredth anniversary of its founding. Some of the old customs which will be revived on this occasion will have an interest far beyond the rim of Boston Common, for they will illustrate in a striking way how America as a whole has progressed in the short span between its original occupation by the French and British and the present.

On Boston Common, where the American Revolution really began, they will erect a ducking stool and duck a bad-tempered woman daily, weather permitting, for the edification of Boston's guests. Mrs. E. H. Marshall, of Dark Harbor, Maine, applied for the privilege of being ducked and has been hired. Pillories similar to those in use in the olden days also will be built, and visitors of a historical turn of mind may sit in them to have their photographs taken.

It is little more than a hundred years ago since these implements were used in New England to subdue too exuberant citizens in the newly-formed republic. The ducking stool was designed to cure women who annoyed their neighbors by continual scolding. The treatment was simple and usually effective. The lady was tied to a long plank balanced over a pond and submerged for half a minute. When brought to the surface again, she was asked if she repented, and the vigor of those early New Englanders was shown by the fact that many of them had to be ducked several times before they would promise to mend their ways. One, indeed, was drowned in the process, which, according to the record, was considered unfortunate, but her own fault.

Stocks were in use in Boston up to 1803, but New England, even then, was ahead of England in abolishing them, for in the Old Country they survived until 1837. That is less than a century ago and we have outlived many of these barbarous ideas since then. The "good old days" have a romantic appeal for all of us, but this is a time of much more comfort and safety for the average man.

THE OLD GAME

ONTARIO'S VERSATILE PREMIER. Hon. Howard Ferguson, as a campaigner for Mr. Bennett is quite different from the platform speaker of the same name who toured his province asking the people to endorse his provincial government last September. The Toronto Star notes that Mr. Ferguson said this in the course of his speech at Mountain the other day:

Are things prosperous here? In Toronto thousands are walking the streets. In Ontario tens of thousands are idle. There is stagnation similar to that in the seventies.

Our Toronto contemporary then proceeds to quote the following extract from a speech which Premier Ferguson delivered as recently as September 19 of last year:

If you will turn back to 1923 you will see that the value of the farm products in the province was about four hundred millions of dollars. In 1929 it exceeded five hundred millions of dollars. That is true, Mr. Chairman, to efficiency in method and more intelligence in carrying on the industry, due to the training that has been brought about by our educational methods with regard to that great industry. Why the agricultural wealth of the province of Ontario in the same period has increased one hundred and fifty million dollars. Will anybody say that Ontario is not making rapid strides? If you will look at the records you will find that in building operations and structural development in the first six months of this year (1929) there was invested in Ontario a record sum of one hundred and seventy millions of dollars. The money must be available. Our people must be making progress. Everywhere you go people realize that there must be no more prosperous section in any part of the world than we find in our own province of Ontario.

Comment on the above, of course, is unnecessary. It is the familiar old Conservative story. Before the 1925 election the Canadian people were warned by both The Montreal Gazette and The Montreal Star that if they wanted to commit economic suicide, the quickest way to do it would be to send the King government back to office. Some of the voters obviously were influenced by this blue-ruin gospel. But they saw through the whole business when, only a few days after the election, both these journalistic pillars of Canadian Conservatism suddenly discovered that there was nothing the matter with the country after all. Indeed, one eastern journal went to the trouble of reproducing the pre-election blue-ruin headings from The Gazette and The Star together with headings from the same newspapers a few days after the election—which gave the whole show away.

The same dodge is being tried to-day. It would be interesting to hear Premier Ferguson explain what has happened between last September and now to cause him to change his tune about conditions in his own province so completely.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ARMIMENDED BOYS AND GIRLS

The Edmonton Journal

Considerably more than three hundred boys and girls of central and northern Alberta have entered the model airplane contest. Other districts have similarly large entry lists. While it may be true that the prospect of a trip to Ottawa and the possibility of a trip to Europe later on may be the immediate interest of all these thousands of young Canadian airplane enthusiasts, it is probably not stretching the bounds of probability to see a reflection of the armimindedness of the rising generation. Out of the scores who will fly their model planes at Ottawa in July, there will be many who will in later years pilot real machines through the air. There will be some who in later life will be leaders in this industry whose possibilities are now just being explored.

The Model Airplane League of Canada, under the guidance of Major-General J. H. MacBrien, is making a fine effort to stimulate interest in flying among the Dominion's boys and girls. Its success will be measured in a few years by the steadily increasing numbers of young Canadians entering the world of aviation. Canada, as has been said many a time, is a country for the airplane. It is by the work of such an organization as the Model Aircraft League that it will be made a people of the air.

THE LEGAL PROFESSION IN THE UNITED STATES

The Detroit Free Press

"Vast numbers come to the bar ill-fitted by environment or discipline to withstand the malign influences and increasing temptations of a crowded urban life." Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes. The decline in the ethical standards of a large element in the legal profession in this country is paralleled by a similar decline in the standards of certain other professions and in certain lines of business; and it is due to a mad desire for money, at the expense of justice and honesty.

RADIO STATION

WILL BE BUILT

IN FAR NORTH

E. J. Haughton, superintendent of government radio for the province, has been in Vancouver for the past three weeks looking after supplies for the new radio station, which is to be erected by the Marine Department on Coppermine River, Coronation Gulf, Northwest Territories. This station will be the farthest northern station operated by the Dominion Government. It will be of the most up-to-date type possible to obtain. The equipment will consist of a 500-watt continuous-wave transmitter and telephone, together with a short-wave transmitter of the same capacity. As there is practically nothing in the way of building material in the district, everything had to be sent in, including fuel. Two fabricated steel masts supported by steel guys, will be used for the long wave operations, and two smaller masts of galvanized pipe construction for short wave. The wave lengths to be used will be as follows: 1640, 1554, 800, 44.94, 39.59, 36.45 and 30.41 meters.

The equipment, together with the building material, will be shipped to Coronation Gulf by the steamer Bay-chimo next month. It is expected that the construction crew will leave Edmonton early in July and proceed down the Mackenzie to Fort Norman, whence they will be transported by airplane to Coronation Gulf. It is hoped to have the station in operation about September next. Communication will no doubt be maintained with Hudson Bay radio stations and possibly with some of the British Columbia stations.

LOCAL BRANCH HAS KID SHOW

Thirty-two Goats Entered By Members of B.C. Goat Breeders' Association

The kid show of the local branch of the British Columbia Goat Breeders' Association, which was held Saturday on View Street, proved successful in every way. The judge of the thirty-two animals entered in the show was Lindsay Williamson of North Vancouver. Among the goat owners attending were Mrs. W. W. Lockwood, Cobble Hill; Mrs. Blakely, Otter Point; and Mrs. Bradley-Dyne, Parksville, the latter of whom owns the famous "Deerfield" herd.

The awards were as follows: Pure bred Saanen, senior (two exhibits)—1, Mrs. Lockwood, Snow Queen, Junior (eight exhibits)—1, Mrs. Lockwood, Vanity Fair; 2, Miss Harvey, Sharon; 3, T. Pearce, Easter; 4, Mrs. Newbury, Dely; 5, T. Pearce, Daisy.

Grade Saanen, senior (four exhibits)—1, Mrs. Mot, Fair; 2, and 3, Leonard Blackmore, Lady Love; and Mickey, Junior (four exhibits)—1 and 2, A. E. Blakely, Maud and Midge; 3, A. E. Blakely, Boole.

AT THE THEATRES

GREAT PORTRAYAL
GIVEN BY GEORGE
ARLISS THIS WEEK

George Arliss appears again in "The Green Goddess," and in this talking version of the great stage success, which opened a six-day run at the Dominion Theatre yesterday, he gives a performance that he has never excelled in his long career on the stage and screen. It is a performance of ingratiating charm, subtle humor and outlandish devilry. Although Mr. Arliss successfully played the role of the Rajah of Rukh on the silent screen several years ago, this medium gives greater opportunities to present the strange fascination of the character he portrays in this weird and melodramatic story.

"The Green Goddess" proves that the camera and microphone know few limitations. The Vitaphone accurately recorded the sounds of airplanes, wireless and bombs, and the strange language and peculiar chanting of the Himalaya tribe. Added to the perfect sound reproduction, the excellent photographing of the massive sets and wild mountain country makes of "The Green Goddess" entertainment that sets a high standard.

Meet Constable Grippier, now Sergeant Grippier, companion of Sherlock Holmes in his most dangerous adventures.

In "The Return of Sherlock Holmes" at the Coliseum Theatre, you meet not only the famous Sergeant Grippier, Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson, but also Moriarty, the arch-criminal, Colonel Moran, Solly Cheesecake and most of the other characters of the famous Sir Arthur Conan Doyle detective stories. This all-talking Paramount picture introduces them in a baffling mystery which brought Sherlock Holmes out of retirement, and to the United States, for the first time.

MARSEILLES MARCH IS HIGHLIGHT OF
FILM AT CAPITOL

The immortal march of the Men of Marseilles is one of the most dramatic highlights of history, and in the Universal all-around musical romance "Captain of the Guard," which is now being screened at the Capitol Theatre all this week, this heroic march is brought to life in a gripping immensity. It was this handful of nondescript heroes which turned the tide of battle in the Revolution from defeat to victory for the revolutionists, and the manner in which they fought and won is depicted with startling realism in the tremendous conflict shown in the picture.

Only 500 strong, they marched from their home, Marseilles, in the South of France, clear to Paris, arriving just in the nick of time to hunt themselves into the fray. They gave new courage to their comrades who were being thrown back by the King's armies, and such was their indomitable spirit, even after their forced march, that the day was theirs.

DOMINION DAY
TO BE CELEBRATED AT LADYSMITH

Plans Being Completed For
Big Parade and Sports at
Up-island Town on July 1

Special to The Times
Ladysmith, June 24.—Arrangements are progressing favorably for the Dominion Day celebration which is expected to be the biggest and best yet in former years. The committees in charge are working hard to make the celebration a success in every way possible. The parade will line up on Victoria Road at 12:30 and will be led by the Granby band. It is hoped that many floats will be entered, much color will be added to the procession as each child will be presented with a balloon and upon their arrival at the field they will receive ten cents.

Sports for the children will be held and later in the afternoon a five-a-side football match will be played. Competitions will be played off. Softball will be played in the evening and the day will end with a dance in the Agricultural Hall under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans. Pimlott's orchestra will be in attendance.

The June meeting of the South Seaism Women's Institute was held in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening, with Mrs. H. Lawrie presiding. Mrs. C. L. Sykes read letters from an institute in England and from Mrs. Humphries asking for exhibits for the Vancouver Exhibition. The N.C. Worsteds Mills Limited offered to donate wool for a rug and comforter for competition at the Victoria Exhibition. A letter was also received from the Pacific Milk Company regarding a competition. The University of British Columbia inquired if residents of the district would be taking the advanced course in agriculture. A basket picnic will be held in July, arrangements to be made at the next meeting.

Morley Tubman is visiting at the home of his father, T. Tubman. Miss Ruth Odberg was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Michell during the week.

SOLARIUM FOR
CRYSTAL GARDEN

An innovation at the Crystal Garden is the reservation of a section of the promenade for swimmers in bathing costume who wish to recline and enjoy the health-giving benefits of solarium treatment. Yesterday the reserved portion of the promenade was placed at their disposal and swimming patrons and a considerable number took advantage of the privilege.

It has always been a rule at the Crystal Garden that smoking was not permitted on the platforms surrounding the pool. This restriction has been necessary in order to keep the water crystal clear and free from the particles of tobacco which would have found their way into the water. Under the new solarium plan the swimmer may now enjoy a sun bath in a secluded corner of the promenade, read, smoke or have afternoon tea served between periods of swimming.

Survey Shows Rheumatic
Fever Sometimes
"Runs in Families"

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
It has been the common impression among physicians who see cases of rheumatic fever that these cases are more likely to occur in families and other children are likely to have it also.

The exact cause of rheumatic fever has not been determined. It is believed to be an infectious organism which requires perhaps a special type of tissue in which to grow. Certainly the condition is not contagious in the same sense that diphtheria or scarlet fever are contagious.

There are many views concerning the cause of the disease having to do with heredity, constitution and environment.

In an endeavor to establish definitely the point as to whether or not cases occur more frequently among children in the same family than among children generally, Dr. S. N. G. Hill and Mary Allan in England looked into the family histories of 400 cases of children who had been treated in the hospital with which they are connected. Of the 400 families investigated there were 214 cases and of the 214 children 540 were rheumatic.

In fifty-one families with two children there were fifty-six cases; in seventy families with three children, eighty-four cases; in forty-one families with four children, fifty-nine cases; in forty-six families with five children, 66 cases. This same ratio was noted in larger family groups; thus of 450 families there were 540 cases.

In not one of the large families, those with six children or more, was there a majority of rheumatic children, and in many of the very large families the only one affected was the child that had been in the hospital.

Since the disease sometimes comes on rather late, it seems possible that another inquiry made after the majority of children had reached twenty-five years of age would show a greater incidence of rheumatic fever among them. However, at present the inquiry seems to indicate that very few of the brothers and sisters of the rheumatic patients develop the disease.

These statistics would seem to answer also to some extent the argument that the environment of the child is important, since all of the children lived under the same environment, had about the same amount of material care and home comfort, the same diet, the same hereditary predisposition, and had been exposed to about the same risk of infection.

Among the children studied there were eight pairs of twins and in not a single instance did both twins develop the disease. In only six families did both father and mother report that they themselves had suffered with rheumatism when young.

There seems to be very slight evidence in favor of the view that juvenile rheumatism occurs more frequently in certain families than in others. Indeed, the evidence seems to be just about sufficient to cause the family and the physician to arrange for a very careful study of all of the children in the family in case any one of them develops symptoms of rheumatism.

Plans Being Completed For
Big Parade and Sports at
Up-island Town on July 1

Special to The Times
Ladysmith, June 24.—Arrangements are progressing favorably for the Dominion Day celebration which is expected to be the biggest and best yet in former years. The committees in charge are working hard to make the celebration a success in every way possible. The parade will line up on Victoria Road at 12:30 and will be led by the Granby band. It is hoped that many floats will be entered, much color will be added to the procession as each child will be presented with a balloon and upon their arrival at the field they will receive ten cents.

Sports for the children will be held and later in the afternoon a five-a-side football match will be played. Competitions will be played off. Softball will be played in the evening and the day will end with a dance in the Agricultural Hall under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans. Pimlott's orchestra will be in attendance.

SEVEN WOMEN CONTEST SEATS IN PARLIAMENT

Agnes McPhail Heads the Feminine List of Would-be
M.P.'s in Canada

Toronto, June 24.—The 1930 Federal general election will be noted as bringing forth more women candidates than any previous election. Seven women have already been officially nominated—two Liberals, three Farmers, one Independent-Conservative and one Labor candidate. More will likely be in the field when nominations close July 21. In the last election only two women contested seats. Miss Agnes MacPhail secured re-election as Progressive member for Grey South-East, Ont., and Miss Kathleen Bennett, Liberal, was defeated by a Conservative, by more than 10,000 votes in Toronto East.

Miss MacPhail, first and only woman elected to the House of Commons, is seeking re-election in the constituency she has represented since 1921. Her majority in that year was 590; in 1925, 1,407; and in 1928, 1,728.

Mrs. Glenora Kennedy, Liberal candidate in Essex West, is the widow of Hon. J. W. Kennedy, who was Minister of Railways in the Liberal Cabinet at the time of his death, four years ago.

Besides standing on the Liberal party platform, Mrs. Kennedy is in favor of unemployment insurance. Her campaign will be assisted by the presence at one of her meetings with Premier Mackenzie King.

The other women in the race are Miss Mildred Low, Independent-Conservative in Lanark, Ont.; Mrs. F. J. Greenwood, Liberal, in Lincoln, Ont.; Miss Beatrice Bridgen, Labor, in Brandon, Man.; Mrs. Ida McNeill, Farmer, in Long Lake, Sask.; and Mrs. Anna Hollis, Farmer, in Ample Creek, Sask.

Three of the nominated women are single and four married. No women have been mentioned yet in the Maritime and Quebec, while four of the seven are contesting Ontario seats.

FORMER MATRON OF JUBILEE DIES IN VANCOUVER

Miss Mary Cameron MacDonald, R.N., Popular Nurse, Died Yesterday

Members of the nursing profession throughout the province as well as a host of personal friends will learn with sincere regret of the death of Miss Mary Cameron MacDonald, a former matron of the Jubilee Hospital, which occurred yesterday morning at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, where she has been a patient for about a month.

Puneral services will be held from the chapel of the Mount Pleasant Undertaking Co., Vancouver, at 3 o'clock, Rev. R. G. MacBeth, D.D., officiating. Interment will be made in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery.

TRAINED AT JUBILEE

The late Miss MacDonald was born in Bathurst, Nova Scotia, and as a young girl came to this city. She graduated from the Jubilee Hospital training school in 1900, and in 1900 was appointed assistant matron of the hospital, and in 1903 was made matron, she being the second graduate of the hospital to attain that position, filling it with distinction until 1913, when she resigned. The board of directors of the Jubilee Hospital at its meeting Friday evening, passed a resolution of sympathy with Miss MacDonald in her illness, and on Saturday wired flowers to her at St. Paul's Hospital, as further token of their regret at her illness.

Since 1913 Miss MacDonald engaged in private nursing here and in Vancouver, and endeavored herself to all her patients by her charm and sympathy.

RELATIVES HERE

She is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. A. C. Gordon, of New Westminster, Mrs. Huxley Tate, and Hector and J. A. MacDonald, of Vancouver; also her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Vye, and five cousins, Dr. J. P. Vye, and Frank, George and Herbert Vye, all of Victoria, and Mrs. H. H. Allen, of Saanich.

her home, 632 Manchester Road, on Friday evening in honor of Miss Marie Canonica, a popular July bride-elect. The color scheme was mauve and pink, and the gifts were presented in a decorated hat-box drawn into the room on a decorated wagon. The evening was spent in games and music and at midnight, dainty refreshments were served. The guests were Misses Marie Canonica, Pat Kirchin, Ann Cope, Helene Weinberg, Madames C. Reid, J. J. Jansson, C. Tervo, R. Sams, E. Kania, M. Pasala, J. Gillam and J. Weinberg.

RELATIVES HERE

Miss Ada Lacey, Past Worthy Grand Matron of the British Columbia Grand Chapter O.E.S., returned to the city Monday morning after a week's absence during which she presided at the nineteenth annual communication of the Grand Chapter of B.C., and also attended the annual session of the Grand Chapter of Washington, held at Tacoma, Wash. Miss Lacey was accompanied on her return by Mrs. Mildred Shawbaker, Right Worthy Associate Grand Matron of the General Grand Chapter of the World, whose home is at Port Arthur, Ont., and Mrs. John Sheratt, Past Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of B.C., who are house guests of Mrs. C. I. Harris during their stay in the city. They returned to Vancouver by the B.C. Airways this afternoon.

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew entertained at a delightful tea at her home on Beach Drive yesterday afternoon, the affair being one of the sound of social functions arranged for the entertainment of the wives of delegates to the Pacific Coast Paper Box Manufacturers' Convention, which is meeting here this week. The guests numbered about forty-five and tea was served from a table charmingly arranged with pink and mauve sweet peas and gypsophylla. Mrs. Herbert Anson and Mrs. G. A. Bucklin presided at the table, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Fletcher and Mrs. P. C. Stettler of Portland, and Mrs. B. Surrah cut the cake. This afternoon the visitors were entertained at a tea and bridge party at the Empress Hotel. To-morrow they will have luncheon at the Belvedere Hotel at Sooke Harbor, afterwards driving over the Malahat, and finishing with tea at the Colwood Golf and Country Club, with Mrs. Mayhew as hostess.

The closing meeting of the Pasqua class was held on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. R. W. Mayhew.

A very enjoyable surprise shower was held on Thursday evening at the Jubilee tea gardens in honor of Miss Haru Hishimoto. Many lovely gifts were received by the bride-elect, several out-of-town friends sending in presents, among whom were Mrs. J. Lister and daughter, Mary, of Vancouver. Refreshments were served and the latter part of the evening was spent in games and dancing. The guests present were Madames J. A. Veness and W. N. Neilson, who were hostesses; Madames P. Appleby, J. Robinson, T. Sadler, R. Bryant, H. Rhodes, W. Baker, W. Kempton, Parsons, Campbell, Koyama, Nishimoto, Huddleston, and the Misses J. Veness, I. Evans, L. Sadler, M. Ake, R. Appleby, M. Taylor, W. Johnston, V. Moore, H. Huddleston, F. Koyama, A. Baker, Y. Prince, L. Sparks and C. Neilson. Mr. Murphy acted as master of ceremonies on the occasion.

Other Social News on Page 7

Strawberry Social—A strawberry social will be given by the Brotherhood of Grace Lutheran Church on Wednesday evening, June 25. It will be held in the social rooms of the church, at Queen's and Blanchard. A splendid programme has been arranged, which will begin at 8 o'clock.

Native Daughters' Picnic—The members of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, are reminded of the annual picnic, which is to be held on Wednesday, June 26. Members intending to go are requested to meet at 5.30 o'clock at the corner of Broughton and Douglas Streets.

Miss Beth Emery of Nanaimo to Play Here; Wins Scholarship

To have won seventeen successes as a pianist, although she is not yet eighteen years of age, is the fine record of Miss Beth Emery of Nanaimo, who will appear in recital at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday, July 2. Miss Emery recently won the Royal College of Music exhibition scholarship, and will leave early in June for London, England, for a two years' course of study in the Royal College of Music.

Her other successes include thirteen from the Associated Body of the L.A.M. and the R.C.M., and three Vancouver exhibition prizes. The awards have been for both piano and voice, showing that she has a versatile talent. As the Victoria festival last year she won second place in piano sight playing in the "under nineteen years" class.

At the forthcoming concert she will give several groups, chiefly of piano numbers, and will be assisted by S. Chivers in vocal numbers, with Miss Beatrice as the piano, and a violin group by Miss Kathleen Walker of Vancouver.

Among Miss Emery's numbers will be the "Adagio" from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," the Bach "Prelude and Fugue," Debussy's "Cuckoo," the Mozart "Sonata in F," A Chopin group will include the "Prelude" and "Nocturne," "Waltz in A Flat" and "Military Polonaise." She will also render Brahms' "Rhapsody in G Minor," "Etude in D Flat" (last), and "Gypsy Air" (Staub), and Dr. Gradus Ad Parnassum" (Debussy).

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

The modern housewife who makes the most of her refrigerator prepares many dishes in advance of serving time and keeps them in perfect condition until wanted.

In summer this use of the refrigerator makes it possible to do most of the work involved in preparing meals during the coolest part of the day. Sunday dinners can be cooked on Saturday and tucked away ready to reheat or garnish and serve. Luncheon and dinner dishes can be made in the morning and party refreshments can be served with ease.

Whenever a dish is to be "cooked" in the refrigerator, place it in the coldest part and allow plenty of time for it to ripen or "cook." The thorough ripening is essential, for both the texture and flavor of the dish is improved. Jellied bouillon, chilled meat loaves, meat, fruit or vegetable salads in aspic, desserts in infinite variety and sandwich loaves are illustrative of the many foods that can be prepared and left in the refrigerator.

Since a sandwich loaf is ideal for Sunday night supper or any light festive refreshment, I am giving the recipe for this particular type of dish.

All white bread or part white and part whole wheat can be used in the loaf. The fillings are legion, for any salad combination can be used. There is no precaution to keep in mind—the materials in the fillings must be finely chopped. Otherwise the loaf will not slice nicely.

To make the loaf, remove the crust from a loaf of bread and cut in three or four lengthwise, even slices. Butter one side of two slices. Place one of the slices, buttered side up, on a large sheet of waxed paper. Spread over a thick layer of chicken salad and cover with a piece of bread buttered on one side with the buttered side down. Now butter the side-up and cover with an olive, pimento and nut salad. Cover with remaining slice of bread, buttered side down. Bind the loaf with the sides of the loaf, mitre and fold ends and bind firmly. Let it stand in refrigerator several hours. When ready to serve remove paper and place in a large platter. Cover top, sides and ends with cream cheese which has been softened with cream. Season with salt and a little white pepper. Make this coating about one-half inch thick and sprinkle with finely chopped nuts. Cut in inch slices to serve.

LINDBERGH BABY NOT YET NAMED

May Be Charles Dwight or Charles Augustus Jr.

New York, June 24.—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and the son who was born to her and the flying colonel Sunday, were resting comfortably tonight as messages of congratulation from both hemispheres poured in on them at the Morrow home.

While the country eagerly awaited the name of the baby whose birth it has acclaimed, a member of the household said the family had decided to call him Charles, but whether to call him Charles Dwight or Charles Augustus Jr. was not settled.

Despite the scenes enacted by the residents of Englewood and the country at large, no further statements concerning the first baby of the land were forthcoming from the Morrow home, where the customary reserve attending events in the family were preserved.

Cos. Lindbergh came to New York yesterday morning to call on Admiral Byrd, an appointment scheduled last week. America's hero of the air, who had realized his latest dream in the birth of a son and the man who has flown across the poles, gripped hands and cried "congratulations." Beyond that the famous pilot met all references to his latest happiness with a laconic smile.

All day messages of congratulation have poured in, the influx growing heavier hourly. From the White House, President Hoover sent a message and from Mexico President Ortiz Rubio wired his good wishes. Gifts, flowers and letters were added.

Englewood, proud of its latest addition, bustled with excitement. Housewives chatted across fences, groups talked on street corners and a procession of well-wishers passed back and forth in front of the guarded gates of the Morrow estate all day.

Three youngsters in pinafores pulled daisies by the roadside saying they meant to take them to the man who would let them in. "The man" did not relent. All day strict guard was kept at the gate even delivery trucks being again held outside the estate.

SCOUTS' GARDEN FETE SATURDAY

Many Attractions at Government House Function Planned

Arrangements are well in hand for the annual garden party of the Victoria Boy Scouts at Government House on Saturday next. Mrs. Hill-Tout and Mrs. Cave will be in charge of the ice cream stand, and Mrs. Aronson and Mrs. Gossell will sell soft drinks. Mrs. Beveridge will again have a most attractive candy stall.

At intervals during the afternoon the Wolf Cub Pack will give a display of some of their stunts. The Patrol troop will do some tumbling and St. Mary's troop, in addition to running a coconut nut, will give a display of signalling. Third St. Barnaby troop will demonstrate how to cross a river and will also be prepared to take spectators over. Mrs. Frank-Holland will do lightning parties and there will be other attractive side shows.

St. Saviour's Garden Party—Arrangements are now completed for the annual garden party of St. Saviour's Church, which is to be held in the garden of Mrs. W. Janowski, 620 Seaford Street, Clifton fine weather. Large attendance is anticipated to enjoy the delightful view overlooking the harbor, and to partake generally in the enjoyment of the afternoon. Mrs. K. Agnew will open the party at 3 o'clock. Besides the usual stalls, games and amusements will be arranged.

Fairfield Garden Party—The Fairfield United Church W.A. have completed arrangements for their annual garden party to be held to-morrow afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Woodward, 1687 Fairfield Road. A good programme has been arranged, including games and folk dances. Afternoon tea will be served, and from 6.30 to 8 o'clock a caterer's supper. A good time is assured all who attend.

Big Rockefeller Wedding Held In Philadelphia

Cynwyd, Penna., June 24.—Miss Mary Techmeyer Clark, of Cynwyd, and Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller, second son of John D. Jr. of New York, were married yesterday in the Protestant Episcopal Church, St. Asaph, of Cynwyd.

The marriage linked one of the most prominent of the old families of Philadelphia to one of the richest in the world.

The wedding took place amid a rich setting of flowers and in the presence of guests that comfortably filled the beautiful church in the Philadelphia suburb.

St. Asaph's Church, Conshohocken Road, was transformed into a beautiful bower of cydonium ferns, lilies and tall standards of white flowers on either side, making of the altar a fresh and scented dais for the nuptial event. Vases of white flowers in the windows, and ferns and clusters of white flowers on the pews added the touch of spring's beauty to one of the month's most important social happenings.

The bride's mother, Mrs. C. A. M. Clark, Philadelphia lawyer, was a picture of ivory and white and rare old lace. Her wedding gown was of ivory duchesse satin, made with the new high waist line, the skirt falling from a small yoke to the floor. The formal court train was inserted with a broad panel of rare old lace extending from the shoulders, and the waist had a yoke of the same lace, and long satin sleeves.

The bridesmaids, in lavender or gandy, and the matrons of honor in delphinium blue, wore dresses of the Chanel model, over crepe de Chine slips, bordered with delicate white tulle and full skirts falling to the floor. Their slippers of satin and their large picture hats were made to match. The bridesmaids wore blue and white and blue and white tones.

John D. Rockefeller III, a brother, was best man. Rockefeller, a 1930 Dartmouth graduate, will enter the office of his father, John D. Rockefeller Jr., after a honeymoon cruise around the world.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late George B. Roberts, former president of the Pennsylvania Railway.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL
Mr. R. J. Darcus has returned to Victoria after a week's holiday in Vancouver.

Mrs. Douglas Hunter entertained this afternoon at her home on Linden Avenue with several tables of bridge.

Mrs. E. G. Prior, who is visiting in Vancouver as the guest of Mrs. H. E. C. Curry, was the guest of honor at a bridge luncheon given by Mrs. J. W. Kerr yesterday in the mainland city.

The Boys' Bible Class of James Bay United Church with their teacher, Mr. Justin Gilbert, paid a surprise visit to Rev. Thomas Keyworth, Battery Street, yesterday evening, when Master Everett McGillivray, on behalf of his classmates, presented Mr. Keyworth with a farewell gift. Miss Helen Ockenden and Mr. Justin Gilbert gave a number of musical selections and a jolly evening of music and games was enjoyed.

Guests at the Y.W.C.A. include Miss Isabel Johnson, Edmonton, Alberta; Miss F. A. McKay, Calgary, Alberta; Mrs. J. H. Robinson, Seattle, Wash.; Miss Agnes Horne, Orillia, Ont.; Miss Gladys and Mable Robbins, Burnaby, B.C.; Mrs. E. J. Johnson, B.C.; Miss Helen, Montclair, N. J.; Miss S. M. Cole, Miss Brookbank, Vancouver, B.C.; Miss G. Alger, Brighton, Eng.; Miss C. McCallum, Miss H. E. Taylor, Toronto, Ont.

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Jeeves paid them a surprise visit at their home, 512 Cecilia Road, last Sunday evening, the occasion being their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Several gifts of silver were presented with hearty congratulations and best wishes. Cards and guessing contests were enjoyed by all throughout the evening, and at midnight a dainty supper was served, the table being centred with a beautiful wedding cake and prettily decorated with pink roses and green ferns.

On behalf of the company present Mr. R. O. Lamb presented Mr. and Mrs. Jeeves with a handsome silver rube basket filled with pink roses and green ferns.

Daughters of Pity—The annual outing of the Daughters of Pity was held on Saturday at Mill Bay. During the afternoon the members had the pleasure of visiting the Bolarium where Dr. Wace kindly greeted the members and escorted them under the institution which was greatly appreciated. Afterwards they journeyed to Mill Bay Inn where a delicious chicken dinner awaited them, returning to town about 10 o'clock. The purse kindly donated by Mrs. F. Aldridge was claimed upon ticket No. 230 held by Mrs. Sylvester.

First Church Tea—A large attendance of members is expected at the tea to be held in the First Church school-room to-morrow afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock, when members of the Women's Guild will be the hostesses. Mrs. D. Fair and Miss MacAllen are in charge of the arrangements, and Mrs. W. G. Wilson and Mrs. J. S. McKelvey will preside at the tea tables. A levy of young girls will assist in serving the tea.

HARMONY WITH IN-LAWS OVER
The older and younger generation both need to practice courtesy and restraint if they are to live together in harmony. And when this situation is unavoidable, and, alas, it must be managed tactfully or there is extreme unhappiness on both sides.

My mail is filled with protests from grandmothers who deplore the "gadget" proclivities of their young daughters-in-law, they having been of the type who considered that twenty-four hours' attention to the baby was the only attitude which spelled motherhood. But for one letter of this type there are those from young mothers who must live with their mothers-in-law. Their lives are made miserable by spoken or unspoken criticism of their modern ideas and methods of child care, in which the older generation often refuses to uphold them. It is a relief and a change to receive a letter of the following type, which many young mothers in a similar situation might imitate with benefit.

AN UNDERSTANDING FROM START
"My husband and I live with his people, and they are simply 'foolish' about their new grandson," Mrs. C. A. M. writes. "But you know all young mothers are not pleasure-seekers and I am very conscientious about my baby, and this is the way I handled the in-law situation."

"My husband is an only child and his mother was a martyr to the cause, thus making, as I have learned, a selthan that for Los Angeles or San Diego, and Seattle, which has always had a low mortality rate and good health conditions, had the third lowest rate in the country in 1929 and the lowest average for the last five years of any of the eighty-one cities of more than 100,000 population.

South Atlantic and West Coast Cities Cut Diphtheria Rate

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

The Journal of the American Medical Association has just made available its seventh annual report of deaths from diphtheria in the large cities of the United States.

To-day the diphtheria rate may be considered a measure of the way in which the community is applying the knowledge that science has provided relative to the diagnosis and prevention of this disease. It is a significant fact that seven of the twelve cities in New England with populations over 100,000 had lower diphtheria rates in 1929 than in 1928. New Haven and Cambridge making particularly good showings. Moreover, rates in Hartford and in Bridgeport were greatly improved over those of the previous year.

Campaigns for the protection of children would seem to be especially needed in Lynn, Fall River and Springfield, since these cities have not kept pace with other cities in the New England states.

Newark, N.J., is the only city in the Middle Atlantic group that had a higher rate for the period 1925-1929 than the period 1920-1924. The finest improvement was made in Syracuse, Erie, Reading and Buffalo among the Middle Atlantic cities. Camden, N.J., has been at or near the bottom of the list for a long time, and it is recommended by The Journal that this city particularly request a systematic anti-diphtheria campaign.

Among the South Atlantic cities, Baltimore made a new low record for 1929, as did also Atlanta. The South Atlantic group has the lowest average diphtheria rate in the country, with the exception of the rate for the mountain and Pacific cities.

The highest rate for any group of cities in the United States is that of the north-eastern cities, which Cincinnati has shown a continuous decline since 1900. The rate for Nashville, Tennessee, was higher for the last five years than for the previous fifteen years.

All of the cities in the west north-central states, including Duluth, Kansas City, Des Moines, St. Paul, Omaha, St. Louis and Minneapolis, had lower rates for 1929 than for 1928, and also lower rates for the last five-year period than for the previous one.

The rate for San Francisco is lower

City Thanked For Wedding Gift To Ex-Chatelaine

An expression of thanks to the citizens of Victoria, was voiced in a letter to the City Council by Mrs. Julian J. Figgott of Fair Way, Ascot, England, formerly Miss Helen Mackenzie, recently chatelaine at Government House, for the city's kind wishes and the silver service presented to her on her wedding.

Mrs. Figgott wrote graciously of the presentation, and assured the council that it would remain one of her most cherished possessions.

Following the reading of communications from the Real Estate Board of Victoria, the Victoria Builders' Exchange Limited, the Chamber of Commerce and several store dealers of the city, articulating various clauses, Alderman Smith opened the discussion with the statement that the public of Victoria was being misinformed regarding the proposed by-law.

He stated, it was not promulgated by himself and other master plumbers for his personal gain. It had been framed by the request of the council to model the obsolete by-law which did not take into consideration modern developments in the plumbing field.

He had gone to Vancouver to look up the city's legislation which had been compiled by experts in the plumbing field. Alderman Smith stated after it had been drafted it had been approved by the Victoria plumbers, he added, not before, as some imagined.

By means of the proposed new legislation a saving of $10 a fixture, or over $2,500 a year on installations were given out, a card could not make a plumber more honest or more efficient than those without certificates.

To this he added, the suggestion that it all was a quack system, might not be a move to ease up on plumbing inspection. The latter point, however, he considered unlikely.

Returning to the point of examinations, Alderman Peden stated it should not be the privilege of the examining board to grant a meritorious candidate a license if it saw fit. It should be its duty to see that he received one, he added.

SHOULD BE AMENDED
In conclusion he stated his view that the by-law should be amended and that a committee should be appointed to go into the matter with those local bodies that had amendments to suggest.

Furthermore, he asked, why should those plumbers of Vancouver, holding Mainland certificates, be given preference over those from Nanaimo, New Westminster or any other out of town?

He noted that it purported to deal strictly with any plumber attempting to do a similar system, which would tend to increase the efficiency of those entering the trade, saying that the proposed certificates would simply tend to segregate the plumbers from those any other vocation.

Alderman Smith contended that since the by-law would affect the city as a whole, the people should have something to say regarding the by-law. He reported his interview with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, stating that two of the best known men in local business, Mr. W. A. Lunney and James Parfitt, had contended that the by-law would increase the cost of building.

If it were a good by-law, it would stand public scrutiny, Alderman Smith contended.

The latter statement was conceded correct, but as Mayor Anson pointed out, the council wanted some finality on the issue.

In reply to Alderman Smith's contention that those interested in the proposal should have a chance to voice their opinions, Alderman Smith stated he had offered to lay over the by-law clause by clause with those bodies seeking to bring in amendments. They had refused to give him a hearing, he stated. Moreover, he added, many of the statements in letters in the press were untrue.

Alderman Litchfield seconded the motion of Alderman Smith, that the by-law be considered by the public works committee and representatives of the dissenting local bodies. He said he was willing to support any by-law which would stand to safeguard public health, but added that the council had to take into consideration the views of the citizens.

GOVERNMENT'S VIEW
Suggestion that the question be made a government issue was made by Alderman Robert Dewar. He referred to the fact that he had questioned the value of the by-law on its inception on the grounds that it would increase building costs. Moreover, Mr. Dewar asked, why should I make a local question when it would affect all the municipalities surrounding the city as well as outside towns?

Alderman Peden stated that while he realized the proposal was an attempt to bring the by-law up to date and was a conscientious effort on the part of the plumbers, he reserved the right to differ with various clauses in the draft.

After going over the definition of a plumber, he asked where the sewer men and pipe-layers came in. He wanted to know why the definition of a plumber encompassed on that of other trades and wondered why the members of that trade did not remain on their own ground.

Regarding the certificates, he stated that they would doubtless be in order under certain conditions. But he asked, why should the term of years enter into the consideration of a man's competency? He noted that many might be efficient with less than the prescribed apprenticeship. Moreover, asked Mr. Peden, what is the out-of-town plumber going to do if he wishes to work in the city? He then pointed out that while a man might be quite competent, his standing would be entirely controlled by the board of examiners, who, he suggested, might not see fit to acknowledge the merits of the man.

He then questioned the definition of sewer men and asked if they should be forced to secure certificates to pursue their trades.

EXAMINERS
Regarding the composition of the board of examiners, Mr. Peden pointed out that it was made up of a plumber, journeyman and other members of the board might carry on their work fairly and above board, the city would have no jurisdiction over the certification of an applicant, since its representative would not be able to have any definite say in the matter if the others were opposed to him.

If such a board were to be formed, he suggested that it should include plumbers, builders and other trades men who would have an equal vote in deciding upon the merits of an applicant.

Further, he asked, why should those plumbers of Vancouver, holding Mainland certificates, be given preference over those from Nanaimo, New Westminster or any other out of town?

He noted that it purported to deal strictly with any plumber attempting to do a similar system, which would tend to increase the efficiency of those entering the trade, saying that the proposed certificates would simply tend to segregate the plumbers from those any other vocation.

Suggestion that the question be made a government issue was made by Alderman Robert Dewar. He referred to the fact that he had questioned the value of the by-law on its inception on the grounds that it would increase building costs. Moreover, Mr. Dewar asked, why should I make a local question when it would affect all the municipalities surrounding the city as well as outside towns?

Alderman Peden stated that while he realized the proposal was an attempt to bring the by-law up to date and was a conscientious effort on the part of the plumbers, he reserved the right to differ with various clauses in the draft.

After going over the definition of a plumber, he asked where the sewer men and pipe-layers came in. He wanted to know why the definition of a plumber encompassed on that of other trades and wondered why the members of that trade did not remain on their own ground.

Regarding the certificates, he stated that they would doubtless be in order under certain conditions. But he asked, why should the term of years enter into the consideration of a man's competency? He noted that many might be efficient with less than the prescribed apprenticeship. Moreover, asked Mr. Peden, what is the out-of-town plumber going to do if he wishes to work in the city? He then pointed out that while a man might be quite competent, his standing would be entirely controlled by the board of examiners, who, he suggested, might not see fit to acknowledge the merits of the man.

He then questioned the definition of sewer men and asked if they should be forced to secure certificates to pursue their trades.

EXAMINERS
Regarding the composition of the board of examiners, Mr. Peden pointed out that it was made up of a plumber, journeyman and other members of the board might carry on their work fairly and above board, the city would have no jurisdiction over the certification of an applicant, since its representative would not be able to have any definite say in the matter if the others were opposed to him.

If such a board were to be formed, he suggested that it should include plumbers, builders and other trades men who would have an equal vote in deciding upon the merits of an applicant.

Further, he asked, why should those plumbers of Vancouver, holding Mainland certificates, be given preference over those from Nanaimo, New Westminster or any other out of town?

He noted that it purported to deal strictly with any plumber attempting to do a similar system, which would tend to increase the efficiency of those entering the trade, saying that the proposed certificates would simply tend to segregate the plumbers from those any other vocation.

THE SPARKS IN THE MIRROR

JUDGING from the ovation given the loser and the howls and boos that were flung at the winner, Saturday night's wrestling bout between Bob Kruse and Martin Zikov demonstrated conclusively that, apart from all discussion as to what the rules do or do not permit, the promoters of the game in Victoria must do as other coast promoters are doing and decide just how much of the recently introduced features of the old bare knuckle prize fight ring are to be permitted in future bouts.

Saturday night the crowd cheered to the echo Zikov, the Russian Lion, who lost the bout. The demonstration against Kruse was probably greater than has ever been shown to any man in any kind of sport in Victoria. Kruse is the type of wrestler who "rabbit punches," flying tackles, kicking, the use of the knee and a variety of tricks that a few years ago were strictly prohibited in the wrestling game. The Russian is the clean type of wrestler very similar to Dr. Karl Sarpola who strives to win a wrestling bout by wrestling. It is safe to assume that the crowd in Victoria was not so much against Kruse as it was against the type of wrestling he was doing. The promoters of the game in Victoria must decide just how much of the recently introduced features of the old bare knuckle prize fight ring are to be permitted in future bouts.

To be fair to Kruse the hostile demonstration against him might have been to a great extent unjustified. He is a professional wrestler and if he builds a record of victories and if the rules and referees permit him to knock a man down with a series of rabbit punches and supplement his efforts by holding on to the ropes and jumping on his neck that is a matter between Kruse and his own conscience or sense of sportsmanship.

We will hazard a guess, however, that if Kruse makes many more appearances in Victoria and does not change his tactics the wrestling game will suffer. We will hazard another guess too that if the type of wrestling that Zikov and Andy Brown are matched in Victoria the wrestling game is due for a long and prosperous run.

Another feature of the Kruse type of wrestling that must be taken into consideration is the tendency it has to force his opponents to adopt the same tactics. Zikov, after winning all the way along and gaining the first fall in the third round with a series of headlocks thought the referee was too safe to win. He took a lot from Kruse before he retaliated in kind and then on but few occasions. Next time he will possibly be the only one to take all. But it is in Kruse's own style. And Kruse does not like his own medicine and hustles from the ring on the well-known "big boy" Sarpola was quite so good natured as the Russian. He adopted Kruse's style early in the game. Other wrestlers will undoubtedly come to the same conclusion as the Kruse type will predominate. Victoria fans made it pretty clear Saturday night that this is not what they want.

Only defence we heard of match was from a spectator who said they, meaning the wrestlers, added to it. They said everything went, this counsel for the defence remarked. Check! But on the other hand this little old city alone could produce twenty men in twenty minutes who would stage a bare knuckle fight under old prize ring rules for a purse of $100,000. Take all. But it is in Kruse's own style. And Kruse does not like his own medicine and hustles from the ring on the well-known "big boy" Sarpola was quite so good natured as the Russian. He adopted Kruse's style early in the game. Other wrestlers will undoubtedly come to the same conclusion as the Kruse type will predominate. Victoria fans made it pretty clear Saturday night that this is not what they want.

Two champions stood out in last week's performance in the major league baseball battles. The Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Athletics, titlholders in their respective leagues, led the weekly parade, each winning five games and losing one. The Cubs made it almost a runaway for they scored two more victories than the Athletics who took second with three games won and one lost. The New York Giants won three and lost two for third place and the St. Louis Browns won four and lost one while the St. Louis Browns equaled Brooklyn's performance and position.

Scoring was rather low for the week although several teams showed large amounts of futile hitting. The Yankees with 48 runs topped both leagues in scoring and the second with 44. Philadelphia's 41 countered the National Reds and Boston Braves tied each other in heavy hitting without getting far. The Reds made 76 hits for 33 runs and the Braves 75 for 30 and each lost five out of eight games. The Athletics had the best hit total in American League, 72, and combined it with the most effective defence, holding their opponents to 15 runs while they scored nearly three times that many.

The downfall of Cleveland furnished the biggest feature of the week. The Indians lost six straight games and scored but 17 runs the lowest total of the week, and allowed their opponents the highest number, 60.

Bill Peden Wins Over Belgian In Race at Detroit

Bill Peden, Victoria's professional bicycle rider, added fresh laurels to his credit on June 13, according to word received in the city to-day. Bill competed at the Detroit Velodrome in a special match—race against a Belgian, winning all three heats. On the mile sprint on the nine-lap track he rode the final lap in eleven seconds flat. In the mile pursuit he made the distance in 1:23 seconds, which is one second slower than the United States record. In the final heat, a half-mile race against time, Peden flashed across the line in 24.1 seconds. Billie's time was 55 seconds.

Three Would Have Complete Control In All Districts

Commission of Three and Paid Secretary Recommended By Retiring President and Secretary of British Columbia Football Association; One New Member Would Be Elected Each Year; Would Limit Playing Season; Many Other Changes Sought; Annual Meeting In Vancouver Saturday.

Control of football in British Columbia by a commission composed of three members is advocated by a new constitution to be presented to the annual meeting of the British Columbia Football Association in Vancouver Saturday night. The new laws have been drawn up by President Ed. Dickinson and Secretary Tommy Christie of the provincial organization, the retiring chief executive officers. A copy of the suggested changes has been sent to the Victoria clubs by Mr. Christie.

Advocates Change In Soccer Control

Milwaukee Club Rebels Against Power of Landis

Chicago, June 24.—The first open rebellion against the arbitrary authority of Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, broke out to-day when the Milwaukee club of the American Association brought suit in the federal court to stop the transfer of one of its players to the St. Louis Browns of the American League.

SOFTBALL

Moore and Whittington took first place in the second half race of the Westholme Softball League when they defeated the Y.M.C.A. 6-2 yesterday evening. While the Times were absorbing a surprising 17-1 defeat at the hands of the Jokers, first half champions. Home runs by Whitehead of the "Y" and Thomas of the lumbermen were the outstanding features of the first game. Colonists chalked up their first win of the season by outslugging the Colwood Wood Co. 18-10 in a free hitting game marked by homers from the bats of W. Coats and B. Nichol.

Win Ball Title

The junior baseball championship of Margaret Jenkins School was yesterday won by Billy Lovell's team, which defeated Billy Dunaway's nine by a score of 10 to 5.

RECORD ENTRY Townsend Touted As Next Welterweight Champion of Canada

Four Port Angeles Craft Will Complete in 40-Mile Marathon at Gorge
Ralph Bagley and "It" Winner of Times Race; Will Be an Entry

With four hydroplanes coming for Port Angeles a record list of entries has been received by Jack Smith for the forty-mile race for "sea-fliers" to be held at the Gorge on July 1 under the joint auspices of the boys of Canada and the B.R.A. The race will be held over a course from the Gorge Bridge to the C.N.R. bridge and back with the speedy little craft making twenty-five laps.

Ralph Bagley and the "It" which won the marathon conducted by The Times on May 24, is entered and the Brentwood youth is figuring on adding another trophy to his collection. Jack Smith and "Auto Repairs" who won all the major events last season, is also another strong local entry. Smith had hard luck in the May 24 event, his boat breaking down right at the start.

TWO CLASSES
Two respective classes will be run off, but entrants in both the "C" and "B" divisions will have a chance to win the main prize. In the former class ten boats will compete, while five have entered in the "B" class. Fine prizes have been donated for the meet. For the second boat to finish will go the prize presented by Whitaker and Bevercomb. The third craft to cross the finishing line will receive the R. Angus prize. The Johnny Wenger Cup will go to the first "B" class boat to finish, while a prize presented by Walter Adams will go to the second "B" class boat to finish.

Three boats from Port Angeles will compete in the "C" class and one in the "B" class.

"C" CLASS
Ralph Bagley, "It," Victoria; Jack Smith, "Auto Repairs," Victoria; Joe Broadwell, "Lady Luck," Victoria; Bill Dillabough, "Misses Frequently," Victoria; Cliff Lupton, "Miss De Soto," Victoria; Jim Driscoll, "B78," Victoria; Danzel Edwards, "My Baby," Port Angeles; Jim Greig, "White Heat," Port Angeles; George Russell, "Spook," Port Angeles; and Jimmy Loughhead, "Dorothy," Victoria.

Vancouver Youth Gives Great Two-fisted Exhibition and Scores Knockout Over Jack Purvis, Indianapolis, in Toronto Ring; Critics Declare Townsend Best Prospect To Show In East For Some Time; Will Attempt To Match Him With Jackie Phillips, Present Canadian Champ.

Toronto, Ont., June 24.—Lashing out with a two-fisted attack that completely crushed Jack Purvis, Indianapolis, in the third round of their scheduled ten-round feature bout here yesterday evening, Billy Townsend, Canadian lightweight champion of Vancouver, is to-day being acclaimed the most outstanding contender for the welterweight crown.

For two rounds Townsend chased the U.S. fighter around the ring. The latter, one of the best of his weight to perform here in recent months, refused to tempt the dynamite-laden fists of the Vancouver boy and retreated at every turn. Starting the third, however, he opened up, and in less than a minute lay on the canvas battered and bruised as Townsend connected with a well timed one-two attack. He tried to last out the round but was again crashed to the canvas for a nine count. Once more he got up only to have the Canadian champion floor him with a terrific right hook to the jaw. At the count of nine he got up, but on his feet, and the bout was ended then and there, victory being awarded the Vancouverite.

Local critics to-day praise Townsend. They believe he is certain to win the welterweight championship of the Dominion, if a bout with Jackie Phillips, present titleholder and now in the making, is consummated.

FRANK TOWNSEND
Commenting on the fight The Globe says: "Speed, punching ability, aggressiveness and judgment of distance—all these attributes formed part of Townsend's fight. Toronto, fans who had seen Purvis in hard bouts without once watching him in distance, far less knocked down, were surprised to see him crashed to the canvas three times before the bout was stopped."

The Mail and Empire says: "Time alone will tell if Townsend is as good as he appeared yesterday evening, but judging from the eight minutes and twenty-five seconds that he would against Jack Purvis he is the best that has shown in these parts for a long time. He demonstrated convincingly that he is a certain winner for the Phillips' title but the possession of the crown must await the meeting of the pair."

Campolo Scores a Knockout Victory Over Big Italian

Boston, June 24.—Vittorio Campolo, towering gauchito from the Argentine, knocked out Salvatore Ruggirello, Italy, in the third round of a ten-round match in Braves Field, here yesterday evening.

Campolo made the most of twenty-four rounds weight advantage and clubbed Ruggirello to the canvas seven times before he knocked him out in two minutes, ten seconds of the third round.

Hocking and Jones Both Eliminated In Club Tennis Tourney

Lose To Kirkbride and Sluggett, Respectively, In Handicap Singles of Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Championships; Favorites Find the Going Tough; L. Backler Defeats Rev. Ryall In Marathon Match, 8-6, 3-6, 6-0; Marsh Gordon, Defending Champion, Advances After Hard Match.

Favorites found the paths of the tennis tournament at the Victoria Club pretty rocky yesterday and some of them fell by the wayside, and a number had very narrow escapes. Sixteen matches were played and no less than nine went to three sets.

There were five men's handicap singles played, and all five went to the third set before being decided, while the other events were well contested. Steve Jones fell before the steady play of young Claude Sluggett, while Ronny Kirkbride took Bud Hocking down the line for a three-set defeat. Marsh Gordon continued to have close shaves when he ran into Ivan Redmayne who stuck by his guns and hit every shot hard, and won the second set carried the third to 7-5. B. H. Ryall defeated Witter in another overtime struggle, while Lionel Backler defeated Rev. Mr. Ryall over the same route.

Both Jones and Hocking found they couldn't afford to give away points, and so passed out of the running. Jones conceded one point in the first game and two in the second, but found Sluggett returning all his shots. Sluggett won the first set, but Jones reeled off a love set for the second, but Sluggett recovered to win the third by a 6-3 score.

Ronny Kirkbride had his service breaking all over the court, and only lost it about four times in three sets to win from Bud Hocking, who had to concede two points per game. Kirkbride took the first and third sets, while Hocking took the middle set by one break in Kirkbride's service in the last game in the set. The scores were 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

A MARATHON
Lionel Backler and the Rev. Ryall indulged in the real marathon of the day, and as in most long battles youth won. The first two sets were hard fought, and each game lasted for a long time before being won. Backler took the first set at 8-6, but lost the second at 6-3, and finished the third without losing a game. Backler received one point on alternating games. Marsh Gordon, last year's winner of the handicap singles, found Ivan Redmayne ready to take chances, and had to put all he had into the tussle to pull it out. Gordon played steady and passed the younger player who had broken into the final set, and he won the first set at 6-4.

Redmayne continued his net rushing tactics, and despite Gordon's excellent defence, and as in most long battles youth won. The first two sets were hard fought, and each game lasted for a long time before being won. Backler took the first set at 8-6, but lost the second at 6-3, and finished the third without losing a game. Backler received one point on alternating games. Marsh Gordon, last year's winner of the handicap singles, found Ivan Redmayne ready to take chances, and had to put all he had into the tussle to pull it out. Gordon played steady and passed the younger player who had broken into the final set, and he won the first set at 6-4.

Ann Hartley and Ware advanced in the mixed doubles, and have a good chance to reach the finals. They defeated Mrs. Knox and Jackson in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3.

Peggy Jackson and Ronny Kirkbride knocked out Doreen Swayne and Paul Phillips in one of the three set matches of the day. Miss Jackson and Kirkbride had a small advantage in the first set, but Swayne and Phillips made a big difference. Miss Swayne and Phillips fought stubbornly and took the first set, but the winners came back and won the second and took the last two sets at 6-3, 6-2.

VETERAN LOSERS
Mildred Philippon, with the advantage of one half point, defeated the veteran player, Miss Lawson, who was minus 30 in three sets. Miss Lawson was minus 15 at 1-5 but found Miss Philippon too active in the remaining sets which were won at 6-2, 7-5.

Don Campbell and I. M. Isaac met Rev. Ryall and Agar in a handicap men's doubles that could not be completed on account of the light, and it will be finished to-day. The first set was played to-day and Agar overcame a 5-3 lead to win the first, but Campbell and Isaac finished the second off strongly.

NEW EVENT
The veterans' singles draw was made yesterday evening, and the first round will be played to-day. This event is being inaugurated for the first year. There are about twenty-five entries for the event. The club championship will be played to-day. The draw will be announced to-day. In to-day's feature match Gerald Cunningham will meet Don Campbell to decide the fourth semi-finalists for the open championship.

Yesterday's results follow:
Men's Handicap Doubles
Gordon and MacDonald, minus 40.3, defeated Reade and Walton, plus 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Men's Handicap Singles
B. H. Ryall, plus 15, defeated H. B. Witter, plus 15, 6-7, 6-4, 6-2.
C. L. Backler, scratch, defeated B. Ryall, minus 5-0, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0.
D. M. Gordon, minus 40.3, defeated I. Redmayne, plus 15, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5.
G. Sluggett, scratch, defeated E. Jones, minus 15.3, 6-4, 6-0, 6-2.

R. Kirkbride, minus 15.3, defeated R. Hocking, minus 40.3, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.
Women's Handicap Doubles
Mrs. Edwards and Miss Miller, minus 30, defeated Mrs. Leeming and Mrs. Garrett, scratch, 6-0, 6-1.
Miss Campbell and Miss Swayne, minus 15.3, defeated Mrs. Lang and Miss Fraser, plus 15, 6-2, 7-5.

Mixed Handicap Doubles
Mrs. Edwards and Edwards, minus 40, defeated Mrs. Leeming and J. O. Brown, plus 3-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.
Miss Campbell and Campbell, minus 40, defeated Miss McLeod and Piddington, plus 30, 6-2, 6-3.

Miss Jean Campbell and Merston, minus 15.3, defeated Miss French and Walton, scratch, 6-4, 6-2.
Miss Hartley and Ware, plus 15, defeated Mrs. Knox and Jackson, minus 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

C.P.R. CLUBS WILL BATTLE

Victoria and Vancouver Tennis Teams Meet This Week-end For Glendenning Cup

C.P.R. Tennis Clubs who are leading one section of the Vancouver Island Tennis League will meet Vancouver C.P.R. Tennis Club here on Saturday and Sunday in a two game competition to decide the first match of the Empire Cup series which the local railroaders now hold as a result of their win last year.

The competition will see two men's singles, two women's singles, three men's doubles, two women's doubles and four mixed doubles in the cup events while the players will also take part in a friendly interclub match. Last year the local players amassed a big lead in the first match at Vancouver but were forced to fight to the last game to snare the Glendenning Cup.

There is no stipulation as to the number of players that the clubs are to use but they are restricted to a minimum of five women and five men. The Victoria C.P.R. have announced that they will use seven women and eight men in the trophy match. The players selected to represent the club follow: Mrs. Jack Clark, Florence Byrnes, Dorothy Graham, Grace Sluggett, Mrs. Charles Moss, Mrs. M. Stewart, Mrs. A. M. Perrine, George Howland, William Feden, Jack Clark, K. Martin, Mr. E. Ryall, Backler, Jack J. McCutcheon and B. A. Adley.

feated Mrs. Knox and Jackson, minus 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.
Miss Jackson and Kirkbride, minus 15.4, defeated Miss Swayne and Phillips, minus 30.3, 6-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Women's Handicap Singles
Miss Philippon, plus 3-6, defeated Miss M. A. Lawson, minus 30, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.
Miss M. Miller, minus 40, defeated Mrs. Nicholson, plus 15, 6-3, 6-4.

One More Heavyweight Battle Ends Disastrously

Giant Carnera Is Victim of Foul At Hands of Godfrey

Is Fourth of Recent Heavyweight Jousts To End In This Manner Much To Disgust of Public; Fans At Yesterday Evening's Bout At Philadelphia Yell "Fake"; Giant Italian Shows Up Well and Is Declared Winner; Godfrey Showed Signs of Weakening.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Another foul caused a stir to-day about heavyweight prize fighting.

This time it was George Godfrey, the giant negro of Leiper-ville, Pa., who committed the foul. This time the fallen gladiator, writhing in anguish on the floor of the battle pit, was Primo Carnera, the Italian colossus, and again the faithful, come to see a fight, booed and roared, and shouted, "fake"—and went home talking to themselves.

The battle of the Behemoths, the two largest men ever to face each other in a ring, missed duplicating the farcical ending of Jack Sharkey's duel with Max Baer, for the heavyweight crown by less than two minutes.

Whereas Sharkey fouled his man in the last few seconds of the fourth round, Godfrey struggled past the first minute of the fifth before he drove an apparently incapacitating left hook into Carnera's groin.

From that second on, however, the situation looked exactly like the rubber-stamp ending that has been plastered on three out of four of the last important heavyweight struggles. Carnera writhed and moaned in the manner of all fouled fighters, finally was eased from his agony by merciful unconsciousness, and was dragged out of the ring, winner on a foul.

SERIES OF FOULS
In four of the most recent important heavyweights' jousts, Otto von Forst has fouled Phil Scott; Scott has failed to have a claim of foul sustained against Jack Sharkey; Sharkey lost on a foul to Schmeling and Godfrey belted Carnera low.

For this display of submarine twirling and grimacing the fans have paid an attendance bill of approximately $1,500,000.

Yesterday evening almost 40,000 customers paid close to $200,000 for the bout that was billed as the real test of Carnera as a fighting man.

But, unfortunately for boxing, it failed to turn out that way. Godfrey, contributing an even 250 pounds to the quarter of a ton of struggling humanity at the National League ball park, belted the vast Venetian dandy in the first round, socked him solidly in the second, raised up in the third, and went ahead again in the fourth.

Carnera showed genuine ability to balance his 262 pounds on his amazing feet, despite the leather that bounded freely off his chin and buried deep in his body. He was fast on his feet for such a tremendous fellow. He was cool, little. He damaged the negro giant but little.

Godfrey was obviously tired badly when he let loose the low left hook after one minute and thirteen seconds of the fifth.

While the crowd booed and cries of "fake" rolled down the ring-side, critics up close were mixed in their opinions. Several believed the match had been talked over before it was put on, others could see nothing wrong.

Dr. J. Webb Vaughan of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, who was present to see the presentation of prizes, said there would be an investigation before the fighters were paid.

It was reported Carnera was to receive sixty per cent. of the gate receipts and Godfrey $10,000 flat, although there seemed to be some doubt as to who would pay the negro.

A REAL FOUL
There was no question as to the low blow. Early in the fifth round Godfrey, who had been punching short, but with increasing lack of power, to the body as the fight wore on, suddenly loosed a long left hook that looked foul from the start all the way to the point of contact.

Carnera howled, grimaced and then collapsed, his huge body shaking the reinforced ring as he landed.

FIRST ROUND
The opening round chased all thought of foul from the minds of the spectators. Concentrating on the body of Carnera with a left hook that the big fellow gondola could not block, Godfrey slammed his man around the ring at his right, and shot off hard rights to Primo's head at will. The negro giant, facing the only man who ever out-sized him, tucked his head down on Carnera's chest and pounded him across the ring.

He caught Primo on the ropes, shook him badly with three left hooks to the chin and the ring, especially reinforced with steel beams to support this quarter-ton of fighting man, trembled as Carnera jumped away from danger. Godfrey followed, whaled Primo a couple of rights to the chin and had the Venetian slowly sinking into a ballet dancer's split at the end of the round.

SECOND ROUND
Although the danger signals were flying high for the vast Venetian, he took his punishment well, recuperated fast between rounds and came out for the second session boxing coolly and well for such a mammoth man. "Big George" rushed his man again, and as he came in, but could not land with the effectiveness as in the first. Primo took a more modified lacing at close quarters. He stopped a few more rights with his chin, but all in all did much better.

THIRD ROUND
Godfrey tired in the third and Carnera slung him around in the clinches at will, drilled several short overhead rights to Godfrey's head and had the putty negro pouting and bleeding from the lips at the end of the round.

FOURTH ROUND
The fourth round presaged the end. Godfrey obviously was weakening and his punches no longer drilled into Carnera's wide open body. He tapped the ribs in close, missed at long range and looked more and more like a lumbering stevedore dropped into a new and puzzling situation. He managed to out-rough Carnera, however, struck what clear blows there were and took one warning for hitting low.

FIFTH ROUND
The fifth round had scarcely started before Godfrey, slowed to a walk, stepped across the ring with a left hook that every one within twenty feet of the ring knew was going to land low. It thudded home for all to see and Primo collapsed like a blimp struck amidships by lightning. As the pain grew worse he rolled and struggled until finally collapsed utterly, on his back. There were several minutes' delay while the referee called a physician, but no count was started over the fallen gladiator.

BRENTWOOD SPEECH DAY

Fine Weather Marks Seventh Annual Presentation of Prizes at Boys' College

Perfect weather conditions favored the seventh annual speech day of Brentwood College Saturday, and a large number of parents were present to see the presentation of prizes and an extensive programme of land and water sports.

The headmaster, Henry P. Hope, complimented the governors and staff for the progress of the year, and mentioned the school chapel, which is being built by the boys themselves, and which will be finished in two years.

Old boys of the college, he said, were enrolled at universities throughout the empire and were helping to carry on the best traditions of the school.

Great enthusiasm marked the presentation of prizes in the gymnasium.

The list of prize winners follows: College tennis doubles championship, the McNeil Challenge Cup, won by default—Wooten and Easbury.

Singles tennis championship, the Leader Cup—Wooten.

Balling race, the Lane Challenge Cup—Wooten.

Swimming race, junior—Buck. Swimming race, intermediate—Brooke.

Novelty race, won by Malin. Relay race, senior—Wilson II.

Four-oared race, inlet course, lap-stroke, won by fourth crew—Buck, Clark, Allan and Mackie.

Four-oared race, handicap, Dickson Cup, won by second crew, Sharp, Mayhew, Calland and Ford.

Diving, C. F. Todd Cup, won by Wilson, minor; second, Buck.

Novelty race, won by Malin. Relay race, senior—Wilson II.

Fort Worden Ball Team Meets Sons Here Twice July 1

Victoria ball fans will have a chance to see the American army in action on July 1 at the Royal Athletic Park, when a team from Fort Worden Barracks, Washington, meets the Sons of Canada in a doubleheader.

It will mark the first time in some years that an American army team has appeared at a local park.

The two games will form part of the regular Dominion Day celebration and will start at 10.30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

CAMBRIDGE IN FINE VICTORY OVER SUSSEX

Rough-Trouth Gives Splendid Bowling Performance for University Eleven

London, June 24.—Cambridge University won a fine cricket victory from Sussex at Brighton yesterday by ten wickets.

The university was well served by their bowler, Rough-Trouth, who captured six wickets for 44 runs on Saturday and four wickets for 33 runs yesterday.

Scores were: Sussex, 210 and 128 (Hurns, three wickets for 24 runs); Cambridge, 213 and 120 for no wickets (Kemp Welch, 51; Killick, 70, not out).

Another fine bowling performance was that of A. G. Slater, who enabled Derby to beat Somerset at Cheltenham by ten wickets. Slater took seven wickets for 17 runs yesterday and seven wickets for 31 runs on Saturday. Scores were: Derby, 120 (Buse, four wickets for 27 runs), and eight runs for no wickets; Somerset, 84 and 70.

Second day closing scores were: Marylebone Cricket Club versus Oxford University at Lords, M.C.C., 205 and 240 (B. Lyon, 102; Peedies, five wickets for 61 runs); Oxford, 205 (Gardner, 72; Martin, four wickets for 70 runs), and 85 for one wicket (A. M. Crawley, 66, not out).

Surrey versus Essex at Maidstone, Surrey, 461; Essex, 262 (Cutmore, 70; O'Connor, 55; Allom, four wickets for 89 runs), and three runs for no wickets.

KENT DECLARES
Worcestershire versus Kent at Bournebridge, Worcester, 115 and 100 for no wickets; Kent, 173 for eight wickets, declared. Nottinghamshire versus Yorkshire at Nottingham, Yorkshire, 46, up, four wickets. No further play. Rain.

Northamptonshire versus Middlesex at Northampton, Northants, 15 and 40 runs for no wickets; Middlesex, 185 (Henderson, 46, up, four wickets for 39 runs). Rain stopped play after tea.

Hampshire versus Glamorgan at Portsmouth, Hampshire, 229 and 146 for no wickets; Glamorgan, 207. (Turnbull, 4; Baring, four wickets for 84 runs).

Two exhibitions of $150 each, awarded on the Rhodes Scholarship plan to boys returning to school for at least one more year—Cameron major, and Wilson, minor.

The Yarrow Shield and Medal—won by Wooten.

BARRAGE OF HOMERS SEEN AS SONS WIN

Five Home Runs Crashed Out When League Leading Elks Go Under 16-10

Sons of Canada threw a monkey wrench into the pennant aspirations of the league leading Elks yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park, when they defeated the antiquated tribe by a 16-10 score.

The Elks are still leading the senior ball league by a one-game margin over the Sons, although the Canadians have played one more game.

The feature of yesterday evening's fixture was the hitting of five home runs during the nine innings. Jack Beaton, Bill Holman and Colin Campbell, of the Sons, and Jack Morgan and Jim Forbes, of the Elks, pooled out circuit smashes. The Sons collected no less than thirty-three hits between them, seventeen going to the Sons and sixteen to the Elks.

THREE HUMBERS
Elks need three pitchers in an effort to stem the avalanche of runs. Jimmy Danglefield started for the league leaders and bumped into trouble in the first inning when Holman lifted the ball out of the lot with Falconer on the bags.

In the second inning Danglefield made a hasty exit after the Sons had connected for seven hits and six runs, being replaced by Jim Robertson. The latter fared no better, and in the fifth also was chased after the Sons had raised their score to fifteen. Bacon and Colin Campbell connected for home runs off Robertson.

At the start of the sixth "Doc" Webster went into the box for the Elks and managed to hold the Sons to a lone run.

Jack Noble pitched the entire game for the Sons, and although he allowed sixteen hits, managed to pull through. Herb Cummins, the Elks' second sacker, led the hitters with a perfect average, three hits out of three trips to the plate.

The box score follows:

Sons of Canada: A. B. R. F. O. A. E.
E. Campbell, 11, 5, 1, 1, 5, 2, 0
Beaton, 5, 3, 2, 2, 3, 0, 2

Major Ball Clubs Treat Mr. Public To Hitting Rampage

Total of 256 Hits, Including Twenty Home Runs, Hammered Out Yesterday By American and National League Teams; Chicago Cubs Lead Parade With Twenty-four Hits For 21 To 8 Win Over Philadelphia; Brooklyn Hits Safely Twenty-eight Times To Down Pittsburgh; Washington Hurdles Yanks For Second Place In American League.

Modern day baseball, with its lively ball, home runs and two-figured scores, was exhibited to Mr. John Public in large quantities by the Major League ball teams yesterday.

A total of 256 hits, in which were interspersed twenty home runs, rang off the bats of the players, scoring 159 runs to furnish an example of baseball as played in 1930. Babe Ruth connected with his twenty-fourth homer of the season.

Chicago Cubs led the parade, defeating the Phillies 21-8, as they found the Philadelphia pitchers for twenty-four hits including Hack Wilson's twenty-second home run. Davis, Philadelphia catcher, drove the ball over the fence twice.

Not far behind trailed Brooklyn Robins as they downed Pittsburgh 19-6. The Robins hit safely twenty-eight times and in doing so tied two league records. Their ten consecutive hits in the sixth equalled the one-inning successive hit record held by the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals while the two added at the start of the seventh ran the consecutive string to 12 and tied the mark made by the Cardinals against the Phillies on September 17, 1920.

BRAVES CUT LOOSE
Even the Boston Braves cut loose, winning a slugging match from the St. Louis Cardinals 12-9. Wally Berger hit his twenty-first home run.

New York Giants managed to pull out an old-fashioned ball game, but the Cardinals, who had been leading as Giants won 3-0. Ray Kulp held New York to eight at bats.

Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox hooked up in a 2-1 game in the opener of a double-header in the American League and then closed with a 17-9 affair. The world champions were on the long end of the score in both games. Simmons homered twice in the nightcap.

New York Yankees lost ground as they blanked the St. Louis Browns in the first game of a double bill 15-0, and then dropped the second 10-4. The defeat dropped the Yanks to third place.

A double killing over the Cleveland Indians by the Senators sent Washington into second place. The scores were 8-5 and 3-0.

Behind Danny MacFayden's three-hit pitching the Boston Red Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers 3-0. It was MacFayden's second three-hit performance in a week.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Philadelphia, June 24.—The Philadelphia Athletics took both games of a double-header with the Chicago White Sox yesterday. The Athletics won the first game, 2-1, and the second, 17-9. Jolley and Simmons hit two home runs each in the second game, while Phil Cochrane and Haas had one each.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Only one Wednesday League Cricket match will be played to-morrow afternoon with the Hudson's Bay and T. and V. meeting at Beacon Hill commencing at 2.30 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the Ward Three Liberal Association will be held at the Liberal headquarters, corner of Government and Broughton Streets, to-night at 8 o'clock. Election business will be brought forward.

It was announced this morning that on and after Thursday of this week the fares on the Blue Line buses operating between the city and Oak Bay will be reduced from ten cents to six cents and that six tickets will be purchased for thirty-five cents.

Robert Smith, Douglas Street, has been awarded the contract for the plumbing and heating in connection with the reconstruction of the Bank of Montreal building at the corner of Government and Bastion Streets. Parfitt Bros. Ltd., are the general contractors.

"Thought, Force in Business and Everyday Life" will be the subject of a free lecture by Prof. Robert M. La Follette at the Pemberton Block, suite 211, to-night at 8 o'clock. There will also be a reading of letters of volunteers from the audience. The public is cordially invited.

The annual meeting of the donors and subscribers of the Jubilee Hospital will be held in the blue room of the hospital on Friday, June 27, at 2.30 o'clock. The annual report of the directors will be read, together with the financial statement for the year. Four directors will also be elected.

Election campaign workers of Ward Two Victoria Liberal Association, who can give whole or part of their time in support of the Liberal candidate, are requested to attend a meeting in the association rooms at Government and Broughton Streets on Thursday, June 26 at 8 p.m.

Viggo Kihl, examiner of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, who is in the city to conduct the examinations, will be the guest of honor at a tea and reception to-morrow afternoon at 4.45 o'clock at the Angela. Music teachers of the city are invited to meet Mr. Kihl at this reception, and those able to accept the invitation are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Gertrude Marshall, 50072.

A letter of condolence will be sent to the relatives of the late Rev. Dr. John Campbell by the City Council, according to a motion introduced by Alderman H. O. Litchfield at its meeting yesterday evening. In making the resolution, Alderman Litchfield paid tribute to the work of the late Dr. Campbell and spoke feelingly on his activities in the city.

A move to improve the laundry of the Old Men's Home at a cost of $5,000 and to convert it into a dormitory housing eighty beds, was tabled by the City Council for further consideration at its meeting yesterday evening. While it was pointed out that extra accommodation was required to take care of the aged men of the city, the council left the matter over for further consideration.

An estimate on the cost of removing two feet from the sidewalk on each side of Fort Street, between Douglas and Wharf Streets, will be made by F. M. Preston, city engineer, according to an order given him by the City Council at its meeting yesterday evening. The survey will be made with a view to widening that portion of the street in accordance with the recommendation of the City Police Commission.

A general holiday for the staff of the City Hall on July 13 was declared by the City Council at its meeting yesterday evening. On that day the outside staff will hold its annual picnic, while the inside employees will have the option of attending if they desire. The disposal of a grant of $100 for the picnic was left in the hands of the finance committee.

The senior manual training classes of the North Ward School will display their handwork to the general public on Wednesday from 10 o'clock in the morning to 4 in the afternoon, and in the evening from 8 o'clock to 9, as well as on Thursday morning and afternoon at the same hours. The boys hope that the display, which will be held in the manual training room at North Ward School, will meet with public patronage.

Members of the Victoria Real Estate Board will pay a visit to the Dominion Experimental Farm, Saanichton, on Friday next. The party will leave the city in cars and will arrive at the farm about 11.45 o'clock, where they will be the guests of Professor E. M. Strachan, B.S.A. Norval Peterson will be in charge of the transportation arrangements and all members who have cars with extra room are requested to communicate with Secretary Hugh Lethaby immediately.

An application, through R. B. Webb, manager of the Victoria Girls' Band, to have the city employ them for some of the concerts in Beacon Park during the summer, was referred to the parks board for consideration at the meeting of the City Council yesterday evening. Councillor Wellington, chairman of the parks board, stated only one Sunday was left in August on which that band might be secured. A similar request from the Victoria Boys' Band was also referred to the parks board for consideration.

The matter of extension of the supervision of city playgrounds was left in the hands of the parks committee at the meeting of the City Council yesterday evening. It was understood that the council would co-operate with the Y.M.C.A. and Service Clubs League to promote a greater interest in the matter among the citizens. Providing the latter two organizations secure the equal amount, the council will donate $300 to the cost of this work. If the complementary sums are not raised the city's $300 will be used to pay its regular expenses.

Truck and Bus Collide To-day; No One Injured

Considerable damage was done to the Vancouver Island Coach Lines bus driven by Herbert White, when it collided with the truck driven by Edward Le Bay, 2555 Blackwood Street, at the intersection of Cormorant and Douglas Streets shortly after 11.30 this morning. There were several people in the coach, but none suffered injury.

CARAVAN MEETS PICTURESQUE CHARACTERS

Alaska Highway Pilgrims Find Interest in North

Spend Day Fishing and Mountain Climbing at Fort St. James

Vanderhoof, June 24.—Retracing their steps along the Great North Road, Premier Tolmie's Alaska Highway pilgrims have found no lack of new interest in every mile. Monday they stopped to talk with two of the most remarkable characters whom they have seen on the whole trip—the venerable Father Cecola, who has given his long life to the care of British Columbia's Indians, and Marco Barone, Italian scholar, who with his donkey and cattle dog has spent the last thirteen years tramping around the world and is now on the road to Alaska.

Father Cecola, the best known citizen of this north country, was at his Indian school on the banks of Fraser Lake when the Premier and other members of the caravan called upon him. He and the sisters of the institution showed the visitors over the spacious buildings and grounds where 117 little Indian boys and girls from points as distant as the Liard River are being educated on academic and practical lines.

INDIAN'S FRIEND

An old man now, very grey but still vigorous, Father Cecola shows plainly the face of the marks of a life lived in the far places of the earth among primitive people. His school on Fraser Lake is the haven of his elder years, but he has fought the battles of the cross in many other parts since 1885, when he went into the Kootenay country and controlled the Indians who were on the point of rising against the whites at old Fort Steele. He had continued his work in distant fields. From the Rockies to the Yukon the Indians know and almost worship him as their friend.

The caravan left Smithers at 6 a.m. after a splendid banquet, given by the people of this progressive town at Endeavour. This function was presided over by the speech of Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president of the Canadian Automobile Association, who said he had come to survey the possibility of an Alaska highway as a "doubting Thomas," but was now thoroughly convinced of its value. He built, MISS MACKENZIE SPEAKS.

The maiden speech of Miss Mackenzie, niece of Lieutenant-Governor Bruce, captivated the audience with its wit and keen appreciation of this country. From Smithers the party went to Houston for breakfast, lunched at Sandy's and then on to Endako where old Scottish hospitality reigns, and then turned aside to historic Fort St. James, where the day is being spent in fishing and mountain climbing.

ACKERMAN WILL GIVEN PROBATE

Court Presumes Death of Joseph W. Ackerman Following Disappearance

A tragedy of the sea is recalled by an announcement this morning of the granting in supreme court of probate of the will of the late Joseph Whitford Ackerman, whose death by drowning on September 25 last year has been legally presumed. The late Mr. Ackerman left Victoria on September 24, 1929, in a green painted fishing launch, presumably to join the fleet operating in the waters between Vancouver Island and the mainland, and was never seen again.

The list of wills granted probate over the week-end is as follows: Percy James Emerson, late of Sidney, died in Victoria, May 2; $4,108. James Stewart Clark, Victoria, died January 13, 1930; $6,777. Gustav B. Holman, Alberta probate resealed; British Columbia estate, $3,016.

John Arthur Beedham, Victoria, died March 8, 1930; $2,271. William Kay, Victoria, died April 14, 1930; $1,585. Joseph Whitford Ackerman, Victoria, presumed to have drowned September 25, 1929; $2,000. Samuel Kersey, late of Saanichton, died in Victoria, March 16, 1930; $3,989.

Rev. Dr. Campbell Laid at Rest In Royal Oak Park

Impressive funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for the Rev. John Campbell, D.D., pioneer minister, who passed away on Saturday morning in his eighty-sixth year. The service was held at the Empire Hotel, where the Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., presided. The Rev. W. A. G. Curry, representing the Victoria Ministers' Association, and Rev. W. J. Sippell, D.D., representing the British Columbia Conference of the United Church, presided at the service. The hymns "Unto the Hills Around" and "The Sands of Time" were sung, with the choir leading and W. Gurney presiding at the organ.

Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park, where Rev. Dr. Wilson, assisted by Rev. H. P. Luttrell, conducted the service. The Rev. Dr. Wilson, assisted by Rev. H. P. Luttrell, conducted the service. The Rev. Dr. Wilson, assisted by Rev. H. P. Luttrell, conducted the service. The Rev. Dr. Wilson, assisted by Rev. H. P. Luttrell, conducted the service.

ELECTORS LAST CHANCE TO-MORROW

To provide electors who have not yet registered for the Federal list with a last opportunity, Judge Lampan will sit in Court of Revision to-morrow. He will sit from 10 o'clock to 12 o'clock in the morning, and from 2.30 o'clock to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

SIGHT-SEEING MEN MUST NOT USE PLACARDS

Magistrate Jay Given Ruling in Police Court in Regard to Soliciting

An interesting case under the by-law prohibiting soliciting by sightseeing car operators was heard in the City Police Court this morning, and resulted in Hugh E. Caldwell and Thomas de Macedo being fined $2.50 for allowing a sign, advertising one of their trips, to remain on a sightseeing bus in a prohibited area. It was the first prosecution under this section.

The decision, handed down by Magistrate George Jay, upholds the section of the by-law which makes it unlawful for the operator of a car for hire, to display any sign, which might be considered of soliciting value on cars unless they are in the hands of the companies to which they belong.

WHAT SIGN SAID

Inspector Bolton stated the sign had carried the wording: "Next coach leaves for Mr. Butchart's world famous gardens and Saanichton Peninsula drive at 1.40 o'clock. Tickets $1."

The inspector stated he had seen the Macedo sell tickets to two men on the street, after they had seen the sign, but was unable to say whether or not the next trip was the "one dollar tour."

The sign, Inspector Bolton stated, had been placed on the sidewalk and had later been shifted to the street in front of the car. He contended that the sign was a solicitation to ride in the vehicle. Whether or not it was a successful solicitation did not matter, he stated.

Mr. Lowe attacked the clauses in the by-law relating to this form of soliciting, saying they were so poorly drawn and so involved that they were virtually meaningless. His objection was overruled and the fine was imposed.

Rev. F. W. Cassillis Kennedy Dies In Vancouver

Vancouver, June 24.—The death occurred Monday at St. Paul's Hospital of Rev. Francis William Cassillis-Kennedy, aged 64 years, superintendent of the Anglican Church, and a resident of the city since 1910. He was admitted to the hospital on Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Cassillis was well known by churchmen throughout Canada as an authority on Oriental problems. He was born in Toronto, Ontario, and came to Vancouver in 1910, where he labored for three years in the missionary field. Sixteen years ago he returned to Canada and assumed his present position. Besides his widow he is survived by three sons.

Hotel Lobby Gossip

While Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Wells of 1913 St. David Street, were at breakfast on Saturday morning, they were startled by a noise of an unusual character and they set out at once to investigate the cause of the disturbance.

Mr. Wells went all through the house and then went outside to look around in the flower patch beneath the front room window he found a hen pheasant which had been knocked out by collision with the plate glass. There was blood upon the window and feathers were strewn about the garden.

In making his rounds of the Empire Hotel to-day, Mr. Wells, who is a popular member of the C.P.R. ticket staff, advanced the theory that his front windows had been polished into such transparency that the bird, unaware of the existence of an obstruction, flew with lightning speed to its doom.

The last decade has witnessed some remarkable changes in Victoria's skyline from the waterfront, in the opinion of Dr. E. D. Shortridge of San Francisco, who is at the Empress Hotel to-day with his daughter, Dr. Shortridge and Miss Shortridge arrived in the city yesterday after making a round trip to Alaska on board the B.C. steamer "Albatross." "This is a wonderful country up here and I have always liked Victoria," said the doctor. He has been in practice at the Golden Gate city for twenty-seven years.

WORLD TOUR IS DESCRIBED TO KWANIS CLUB

C. E. Blaney Tells of Interesting Scenes and Events in Many Lands

Comprising twenty lectures into a half hour talk, Charles E. Blaney, of Vancouver, traveling passenger agent of the C.P.R., this afternoon gave the Kwanis Club, at the Empress Hotel, a review of a tour around the world, using a large map to illustrate the course taken. The journey required over five months and covered 40,000 miles.

Mr. Blaney described Punalu, the principal town of Madeira Island, with its bullock carts, and of skidding down hillsides in sleds. At Gibraltar the party were interested in historic reminders of old Barbary pirates. Algeria, ancient headquarters of the sea robbers, was visited, and Mr. Blaney told of the skill with which modern carpet sellers cheated purchasers of their wares by substitution.

Visits to Nice, Monte Carlo and Naples were recalled, the latter now being an excellently operated port. Experienced travelers in the party were warmly appreciative of the efficiency attained under the Mussolini regime, the speaker said. Pompeii and its wonderful art treasures, mosaics and paintings were touched upon and a visit of Jerusalem was sketched. Mr. Blaney recalled stories of the state entry of Kaiser Wilhelm on horseback through a break made in the wall of the city. This point he contrasted with Lord Allenby's humble entry on foot, by way of the Jaffa gate.

Leaving Palestine, Egypt was visited and a description of Cairo, the pyramids and the Suez Canal was given.

In India the company traveled 4,000 miles, and at Agra, the Taj Mahal, the most beautiful structure in India, became a creation of mystery under moonbeams and held a crowd in awe for over an hour. Visits were made to Delhi, Calcutta, Madras and other cities, and the company commented upon the number of sacred cattle running loose and the universal presence of monkeys.

CHINA IN SURPRISE

Singapore, Manila, Hong Kong, Shanghai and northern Chinese ports were swiftly reviewed. Mr. Blaney of the Kwanis Club, said that he was surprised the world when modern machinery and methods became generally adopted.

In Japan the party visited many points of interest, including shrines and ancient centers of government in the days of the Shoguns. The returns to New York by way of the Panama Canal was sketched with brevity.

DELEGATE LEAVES

President Herbert Stevens tendered to Harold M. Diggon the good wishes of the Kwanis Club upon his departure this evening for Atlantic City, where he will represent the Victoria Kwanis Club at the International Convention of Kwanis, opening on June 29. Mr. Diggon is a member of the Victoria Kwanis Club and has been a delegate to the Northwest District of Kwanis. While absent he will secure data for his district convention to be held here next summer.

Victor Meaton was presented by C. Pangman with the Humphries Cup, awarded the champion golfer of the club. Victor King received a second award, Fred M. McGregor was given third prize, and W. A. Patterson received the consolation award. All winners received golf balls from the community singing was led by W. Luney.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Winnipeg, June 24.—Wheat: Markets on this side received little or no encouragement from Liverpool, which did not follow our advance yesterday, while at the same time overnight export business was insignificant. Opening prices were steady, but fractionally lower, with a little buying for foreign account in evidence.

The early demand was quickly satisfied, and the market gradually eased off and with Chicago acting extremely weak and making new lows for the crop year, Winnipeg followed, and on the extreme edge was 3c under the close last night.

On the break there was a very good business, worked, with sales totaling about 1,250,000 bushels, but this apparently was ignored by the local crowd as offerings in the pit continued liberal, part of which was credited to New York, which made the slight upturn very difficult to hold.

The general clearing movement that was going on yesterday left the market in a technical weak condition, and there was little real support to-day outside of export business. There was a moderate demand for cash wheat to-day, and the spreads on some grades were slightly improved. Offerings still light. No change in the flour situation.

The weather in the west mostly clear with a few scattered showers. New winter wheat is evidently moving to terminals at over 100 cars of wheat were reported in the receipts this morning.

Liverpool closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower. Winnipeg futures closed 1/2 to 3/4 lower, right on the bottom, and establishing new low marks for the year.

Coarse grains: Oats held fairly steady with no pressure, but barley and rye were under scattered liquidation with demand poor. There is very little cash business passing, the bulk being in low grades, for feeding purposes in eastern Canada. Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower, barley 1/4 lower and rye 1/2 lower.

Flax: Continues dull and drab; no feature. Closing prices 1/4 to 3/4 cents lower.

Why the Girl Who Plans to Wreck a Home
Had First Better Test Its Foundations—
Shall the Wife of a Traveling Man Travel
With Him? — Lowest Form of Cheating

DEAR MISS DIX—Five years ago my sister, a young girl, went to work for a middle-aged business man and he began deliberately to win her heart. He never said anything definite, just implied how much she meant to him, always spoke disparagingly of his wife and told her how fed up he was with his family. Very generous to my sister about raising her salary, etc. My sister has always frankly discussed everything about him at home, told us what he said, and we all believed that some time he would divorce his wife and marry her. But now we find out that this man's wife is a lovely woman and his home is as pleasant as it can be, and that he has no idea of divorcing her. In fact, that while he has had many affairs with girls he has publicly said that "he would not trade the old woman for any of them."

We think that my sister should get another job and leave this man, but she says that she would never get the same salary elsewhere, and that she has got into a kind of routine work and knows nothing else. How should my sister treat this man? We are all just boiling mad at him.

THREE SISTERS.

Answer—Well may we ask what are we coming to, when a whole family, mother and sisters and brothers, regard with calm approval a young girl's love affair with a married man and look forward to his breaking up his home and divorcing his wife in order to marry her.

I have never seen a more sinister picture of modern life than that you draw of a complacent family who see nothing wrong in a sordid intrigue between a young girl and a middle-aged Lothario, who encourage her in breaking up a home, and whose only regret in the matter is that the man was as faithless to his Lady Love as he was to his wife and that the home is to remain intact after all.

Apparently no voice of conscience protested against the sin of an unlawful love. No mother nor sister cried out to the girl that she was starting down a dangerous road. Nobody felt a pang of pity for the wife who was to be discarded and cast aside for a younger and fairer woman, nor for the little children who were to be deprived of a father. No one regretted the tragedy of a home that was to be laid in ruins.

According to your point of view, the girl had a perfect right to take a married man away from his wife if she could and to egg him on to getting a divorce so she could marry him. You listened to all the details of this sordid affair with the same interest that you would have felt in hearing a tale of pure young love that was a sweet and fresh and pure as a white rose with the dew still on it.

In strict justice your sister has, of course, got just what was coming to her. For once the punishment fits the crime. She played with fire and she has burned her fingers. She started out to rob a sister woman of her husband and she finds that she herself is the one who has lost out and that the other woman has her treasure, such as it is, safely locked up in a burglar-proof vault.

And the moral of the story, if there is any moral to it, is that before a girl undertakes to wreck a home she is well advised to go and take a look at its foundations and see how strong they are and whether they go down to the bedrock of the man's prosperity and self-interest. Also, it is desirable to give the wife the once-over and see whether she is one from whom a flapper can take a husband as easily as she can pennies from a baby, or whether she could put up a pretty good fight to hold her own.

For not every flirtatious husband is really dissatisfied with his wife. Being "misunderstood" at home and being "lonely" and not having wives who "understand them" and "sympathize with them" is just a line that doesn't mean a thing on earth except as an approach that experience has shown men practically always work with an unsophisticated young girl. There are thousands of men who make near-love and have affairs with girls whom they do not even put in the same class with their wives and for whom they do not care a millionth part that they do for their wives.

Still less does every flirtatious man intend to divorce his wife and marry the girl he makes love to. It doesn't help a man socially or financially to figure in a divorce suit. People are not over eager to welcome the woman who has figured as corespondent in a divorce case. Or the wife may have powerful family connections. Or a man may love his children. A thousand reasons may keep a man from wanting to break up his home.

So the girl who counts on building her house of happiness on the wreck of another woman's builds an air castle that is very apt to fall about her ears. That seems to be the case with your sister, and the sensible thing for her to do is to climb out from under the wreck, get a new job and turn a deaf ear to the next married man who begins making love to her.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am asking you to settle a very important question for me. I have been married sixteen years to a man whose business requires him to travel and we have never had a permanent home nor been in one place over six months at a time. I have changed the children from school to school, from city to city and state to state, and this has necessarily interrupted their education. Now the children and I desire to settle down, but if we get a home this involves our being separated from our breadwinner and this doesn't seem fair to him. What shall we do?

ROLLING STONE.

Answer—I should say keep on rolling, for if the rolling stone gathers no moss, as the old proverb puts it, it acquires a lot of polish.

I am not denying that it is hard on you to keep moving, and I know how you must long for a settled home, but as long as your husband's business keeps him traveling the least you can do is to go with him and make him the best substitute for a home that you can. If it is hard on you, it is equally hard on him, and he must long as much as you do for the time to come when he can strike roots down in some congenial soil.

Of course, it interrupts your children's formal education to be continually changing schools. Doubtless they do not make as high grades as the children who stay put in the same schools and with the same teachers, but if you would put them to the test of real education, which is knowing things, I venture to say that your little nomads would make the star pupils of their own age in any grammar or high school look like ignoramuses. For there is no education like travel. The things we see burn themselves into our memory. The history that we can visualize as having happened at a certain place becomes a real thing to us.

It is one thing for a child to study geography. It is another thing for it to have seen rivers and lakes and continents and mountains and cities. It is one thing for a child to read in a history about the Revolutionary War, for instance. It is another thing for it to have followed the trail of Paul Revere and ridden over the very route that Washington's army took, and so on. And no child who has spent its youth going about from place to place can ever be narrow, or provincial or prejudiced.

And consider this also: In a little while your children will be old enough to send off to school, anyway. If you give up following your husband to establish a permanent home for them, they will soon be out of it, and you will have lost your husband. Better keep up with him, even if you do get tired of packing and unpacking and setting up homes only to tear them down.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been in love with a young man for three years, but it is impossible for us to marry because we are both poor and uneducated. Another man wants to marry me. I like him because he is kind, but I do not love him. Would it be unfair for me to marry the man who could take care of me without his knowing that I love another?

DORA.

Answer—Most unfair. The lowest form of cheating, because you are taking advantage of a good man's faith and trust in you. You know very well that he would not marry you if he knew that you loved another man.

But because you are poor is no reason for giving up your sweetheart. Any two industrious, energetic young people can surmount that obstacle if they are willing to work and wait for a while.
